The storm which was central over the upper lake region moved rapidly eastward with increased energy, and is now central over the north Atlantic coast. During its passage over the lakes it caused high winds and gales. This storm will pass out into the ocean by to-night.

The area of high barometric pressure still covers the western half of the country and causes the weather to remain fair and cool.

The temperature has fallen over South Dakota, Kansas Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri and the entire lake region; it has risen over North Dakota, Montana and the Atlantic coast. In all other sections of the country it has remained about stationary. It will grow slightly cooler over the eastern portion of the country and slightly warmer over the western portion.

Light rains have been general during the past 24 hours over the entire lake region; elsewhere the weather has been fair.

Local forecast for Toledo and vicinity—On Tuesday, fair, slightly cooler. On Wednesday, fair, slightly warmer.

DEMOCRATS ALL.

A Great Meeting in New York City,

At Which the Campaign Is Laid Out.

The National Organization in Good Shape.

Stirring and Pointed Address by Grover Cleveland.

Prominent Democrats Present and They Are Full of Enthusiasm and Confidence.

New York, Oct. 4.—The quadrennial convention of democratic clubs held in the Academy of Music, New York, this morning, though shorn of some of its contemplated features, including the monster street parade, was an enthusiastic and successful gathering.

Four thousand badges were issued to delegates representing every state in the union. This was the seating capacity of the theater, but arrangements were made to throw open Tammany hall, adjoining the academy, for an overflow meeting. The galleries and the stage were gaily festooned with national flags and heroic sized crayon portraits of the democratic national candidates appeared on each side of the main stage of the entrance.

The band of the Ninth New York National Guard regiment was stationed in the gallery.

Massachusetts filled the first four rows to the left of the parquette, with Indiana in the post of honor to the right. Connecticut and West Virginia following, New York occupied the center of the orchestra circle, flanked by Pennsylvania and New Jersey. All the delegates wore handsome badges. The proscenium boxes were set apart for distinguished visitors. Box A was assigned for the guest of the day, ex-President Cleveland, and to the vice-presidential candidate, Adlai E. Stevenson, who, however, was not present. Another distinguished absentee was Gov. Flower, to whom Box B had been allotted. The national committee, represented by Chairman Harrity, Don M. M. Dickinson and Wm. C. Whitney, were in box C. Other boxes were set apart for Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, Mayor Grant, Richard Croker, Chairman Murphy, of the state committee, Hugh McLaughlin, and other notables.

Among the early arrivals were Pennsylvania, 250 strong; Maryland, with 117 delegates headed by ex-Congressman Rusk. As the Maryland men came up the band struck up "My Maryland," and the yelling redoubled in this direction when the Virginia men marched in to the tune of "Dixie." Shortly after 10 o'clock another band marched in and took a position back of the dress circle and made the theater ring with the baby song from "Wang," which was sung so often in the Chicago convention to the words "Four years more of Grover."

There were quite a number of ladies in the boxes, and though the proceedings were late in opening there was no lack of life and preliminary amusement.

Precisely at 10:50 ex-President Cleveland entered at the left wing, escorted by Chauncey Black, president of the league, and Wm. D. H. Washington, chairman of the local committee. The whole audience rose en masse to receive him and a pandemonium of cheers and college yells was raised to which both hands contributed. Mr. Cleveland stood for some minutes until the enthusiasm subsided and as he took his chair, "Three cheers for the typical American, Grover Cleveland," were called for and given with a will. Without further preliminaries Chauncey Black called the convention to order.

Convention Opened.

In begining Mr. Black said that the first quadrennial national convention of democratic clubs had assembled under circumstances the most auspicious. "Never before," he said, "within the memory of this generation has the democratic party gone into battle in behalf of principles at once so vital and so clearly defined and never before has such a magnificent organization as this appeared to support them. Not only are the standards which are lifted for our host in this last great struggle for the redemption of the land inscribed with those very legends of liberty which inspired our forefathers, but they are borne by candidates worthy of the best days of the republic, as democratic as the greatest democrat, as pure as purest patriot in our history. In Cleveland and Stevenson we follow leaders who typify the spirit of American life and genius of American institutions—men, who in personal character and public service are not surpassed by the noblest statesman of any age..

"The issues of the campaign are plain," he said. "The republican party propose a government which, regardless of the limitations of the constitution, shall systematically employ the power of taxation to seize the hard earned substance of the people and turning it over bodily to a favored few, maintain an aristocracy of stolen wealth, equally spurious and ruthless, as the only governing and only profiting class in this, the boasted republic of the earth. It is not a free party; it is not a party of free men. It is bond servant of an aggregation of monstrous business monopolies combined to gather private riches by public action.

"To rid the country of the administration of such a party and to re-establish the democratic principles of tariff taxation was the great work now to be done by the party of Jefferson and Clevelaad."

Mr. Black said that that party stood ready and willing to have sufficient taxation for the support of the government for thus far we may consitutionally go, and no further. Beyond that tariff axation is robbery and as indefensible as plain confiscation.

Continuing upon this subject Mr. Black said: "Freedom of trade, the natural right of all men, for which men in every age have been ready to struggle and to die, for which our forefathers fought, and which they believed they had won, is justly restricted in this land of constitutional liberty only by the supreme necessities of our government. Democracy would make it freer—freer, however, only as those necessities permit—keeping ever in view the natural needs of the administration. It is hardly necessary to say that since the inaugural address of the first democratic president, there has never been given to the American people a more accurate and luminous exposition of this fundamental principle of our party and of the federal constitution than that contained in the latest deliverance of the last and the next democratic president."

He denounced the "federalistic republican monopoly protection" as utterly un-American and declared that it had "crippled our industries, arrested our commercial progress, discouraged and harrassed the masses of our people. A curse in the home of the laborer, a blight on the fields of the farmer, a hindrance to the merchant, an injury to every citizen and to every class, save the few who enjoy its unjust profits. Let us not hesitate to strike it a fair blow and prostrate it forever."

Mr. Black, after characterizing the force bill as the "product of a wicked and deliberate conspiracy between the monopoly oligarchy and its servants in oppression," and making some comment upon it, closed as follows: "The election of Cleveland and Stevenson and a democratic congress is within easy reach. Ever since 1872 a majority of the American people have been with us. We have only to poll the democratic vote in November and the beneficent revolution will be accomplished. That we are resolved to do so, and that we have the means at hand to do so, this mighty assemblage, gathered from every portion of the country, is ample evidence. A democratic society in every voting precinct will readily poll every democratic vote. That, and that alone, is required. Let us separate here, resolved, under the timely instructions of our national committee, to complete the organization and thus insure the victory."

At the close of Mr. Black's address, which occupied a little over 20 minutes in delivery, cheers for Cleveland were resumed. As they died away, President Black once more stepped to the front and said: "Gentlemen of the convention:

"We are assembled in the great democratic city and state of New York and in accordance with immemorial custom, a citizen of this state will extend to you its greeting. He who will perform this duty to-day is the most illustrious citizen of New York and the most illustrious living American. (Cheers). He will welcome you here, and by the grace of Divine Providence and of the good people of the United States, he will be at Washington on the 4th of next March to welcome you there. (Renewed cheers).

"Gentlemen of the convention, I present to you

"Grover Cleveland."

The convention cheered its longest. Mr. Cleveland stood with his hands folded, toying with his eyeglasses, waiting for it to subside, but at his opening sentence the cheers broke out again and he said with some sternness: "Gentlemen, you must keep quiet; we have had enough noise."

President Black seconded the appeal for order and quiet was restored. Then in a clear, ringing voice, speaking without notes, and with an emphasis which, in spite of his protest was frequently punctuated by cheers, Mr. Cleveland said:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen—It affords me especial pleasure to extend to you on this occasion a hearty welcome. As a citizen of this proud municipality I am glad to assure you that our hospitality is always open and generous. In behalf of a community, distinguished for its Americanism and toleration in all matters of belief and judgment, I know I may extend a cordial greeting to those who here represent political thoughtfulness and sincerity.

"As an unyielding and consistent believer in democratic principles, I trust I need not hesitate to pledge to the representatives of organized democracy the good will and fraternal sympathy of this democratic city. Your meeting is the council of war which precedes a decisive battle and your deliberations should be the preparation for stern conflict. All your weapons and all your equipments are soon to be tested. You have organized and labored and you have watched and planned to ensure your readiness for the final engagement now near at hand. This, then, is no holiday assemblage, but an impressive convocation in furtherance of the designs and purposes for the accomplishment of which you and those you represent are banded together.

"These designs and purposes, as declared by your association are: The preservation of the constitution of the United States; the autonomy of the states; local self government and freedom of elections; opposition to the imposition of taxes beyond the necessities of the government, economically administered and the promotion of economy in all branches of the public service.

"These professions embody the purest patriotism and the lofiest aspirations of American citizenship. Though at all times they should suggest to us the strongest obligation to political effort, their motive force, as incentives to political activity and watchfulness, should be irresistible at a time when the constitution is held in light esteem as against the accomplishment of selfish purposes, when state boundaries are hardly a barrier to centralized power and when local self-government and freedom of elections are the scoff of partisanship. Those who subscribe to the creed of this association and make any claim to sincerity, can hardly excuse themselves for lack of effort, at a time when the necessities of the government, economically administered, have but little relation to the taxation of the people and when extravagance in the public service has become a contagious plague.

"To those who hope for better things this convention of democratic clubs is a bright promise of reform. Unorganized good intentions and idle patriotic aspirations cannot successfully contend for mastery with the compact forces of private interests and greed, nor is the organization always the most useful which has the widest extent. The real benefit of political organization is found in its nearness to the people and in the directness of its action. Of course harmony and unity of purpose are absolutely essential.

"In this view, your assembling together is most important, in so far as it promotes this harmony and unity by conference and a consideration of methods and in so far as it inspires that zeal and enthusiasm which will make more effective your work at home.

"Therefore, I am sure that I can say nothing better in taking my leave of you, than to wish that your convention may be a most profitable and encouraging one and that, at its conclusion, you may resume your places in your home organizations, newly inspired to determined and zealous effort in the cause of true democracy."

As he retired to the back of the stage at the close of his remarks, the audience stood up and cheered, the band played "Four years more of Grover," and Mr. Cleveland withdrew.

The General Business

Of the convention was then entered upon. Hon. Patrick A. Collins was made temporary chairman, Hon. Martin McGinnis of Montana, vice-chairman, and Messrs. Goodwin of Kentucky, George H. Hoffman of Florida, and Mr. George M. Beckwith of North Carolina, as secretaries and reading clerk.

Gen. Collins, on taking the chair, made a brief address, in the course of which he spoke of Mr. Cleveland as the greatest president the country had ever had within living memory, and paid a tribute to the sturdy merits of Adlai E. Stevenson. He said the democratic party to-day was the party of Cleveland and Stevenson, but it was also the party of Hill and Gray (cheers), of Thurman and Boies (cheers), of Carlisle and Morrison (cheers)—all chiefs worthy to lead the party, and all democrats loyal to follow. No man was doing or would do more than Senator Hill (cheers), whose name stood next to Cleveland at Chicago. Warmed-over whigs, or federalists, claiming to be democrats, might sulk because their man was not nominated, but a true democrat never. (Loud cheers).

Routine business followed.

A delegate from North Carolina rose and offered the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously:

"Resolved, That the chairman be requested to transmit to the president of the United States the respectful sympathy of the members of the Association of Democratic clubs, with him in his days of anxiety, and to express their earnest hope that in the providence of God Mrs. Harrison may in His own good time be restored to health."

The following letter from the vice presidential candidate was read:

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 29, 1892.

Hon. Frederick Goodwin, Secretary:

My Dear Sir: Upon my return here this morning I find your kind invitation to be present at the convention of the National Association of Democratic Clubs in the Academy of Music, October 4.

I greatly regret that engagements to address public meetings in my state will prevent the possibility of my doing so.

Under other circumstances I would gladly avail myself of your courteous invitation. (Signed) Adlai E. Stevenson."

The reading of this letter was received with cheers. Brief letters of regret were also read from Congressman W. M. Springer and Gov. Flower, who said: "My engagements call me to Buffalo on that day, but I trust you will have a successful and enthusiastic meeting."

At 12:10 the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Faded, jaded, tired, overworked women—weak, nervous, delicate and suffering ones. These are the women who are helped to health and strength by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a legitimate medicine, that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nervine that soothes and strengthens. And if it doesn't do what its makers claim for it, they don't want your money.

For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womankind, the "Prescription" is a safe and certain remedy—a guaranteed one. In "female complaints" of every nature, periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, leucorrhea, and all kindred ailments—if it fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

No other medicine for women is sold on such trying terms. If any could be, you may be sure that it would be. Is something else which pays the dealer better, likely to be "just as good?"

WILL TALK MONEY.

Preparations for the International Monetary Conference,

Which Will Be Held at Brussels on November 22—Some of the Delegates.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Secretary of state Foster has sent by cable notification to the European governments which have already signified a willingness to be represented at the international monetary conference, that it had been arranged to have the conference to meet in Brusels on Nov. 22 next, the Belgin government having signified its readiness to have the same hold its session in its capital and the leading power having approved the selection.

The governments which have accepted the invitation of the United States to send delegates to the monetary conference are as follows: Austria-Hungary, Belbium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Neehehlands Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Spain, Swedeu and Norway, and Switzerland.

The delegates from the United States already designated by the president are as follows: Senators Allison and Jones, Congressman McCreary, of Kentucky; Henry W. Cannon, of New York, and General Francis A. Walker, of Massachusetts. In addition to these it is expected that Mr. Terrell, minister at Brussells, will be made a delegate.

BUNCOED.

A Findlay Man Drops a Wad in New York.

Findlay, Oct. 4.—A Findlay business man, who ought to know better, buncoed out of $700, is the result of the latest deal with green goods men.

For several months past this county has been flooded with the circulars of the alleged dealers in counterfeit money, the little postoffice at Mt. Cory alone handling over one hundred of the persuasive missives. So far as heard from, the swindler caught only one sucker, but their profits from him amply repays them for the investment in postage stamps.

Among the men who received the mysteriously worded letters was Henry Snyder, who a year ago failed in business and made an assignment. He was at that time able to pay but a small portion of his debt, and doubtless it was the hope to square these and gain a new start in life that caused him to catch at the tempting bait thrown out by the New York buncoists.

He scraped together $300 in cash and borrowed $400 from his friends, to whom he said he had a sure chance to make a good and quick turn of the money.

STANLEY HAS A WORD.

London, Oct. 4.—The freedom of Swansea has been conferred upon Henry M. Stanley. This distinction is a recognition of Mr. Stanley's denunciation of any move looking towards the abandonment of Uganda. He said that from the political as well as commercial point of view this prospective withdrawal from Uganda would be lamentable. He urged energetic measures to maintain the occupation of the country and to construct a railway to Victoria Nyanza, "Where," he said, "12,000,000 natives are ready to-day to receive English goods."

GRESHAM'S VOTE.

It Is Only One Little Ballot

But it Will Influence Many Others

And Bring Them to the Side of Right and Democracy—Some Comment From Washington.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The natural dullness incident to last Sunday in the capital during vacation was relieved to some extent by two announcements. One was that General Dan Sickles would take the stump for Harrison; the other was that Walter Gresham, of Indiana, would cast his vote for Mr. Cleveland. Very little else was discussed by politicians, and the consensus of opinion seems to be that Mr. Gresham's ballot will far more than offset General Sickles' vocal organs. Sickles is a digruntled perennial. He is never satisfied with either the state or the nature of things, and the announcement that he will not only attack Mr. Cleveland's record and attitude toward the old soldier, but that he will go further and repudiate the tariff declaration of the Chicago platform accounts for the milk in his cocoanut.

It savors so strongly of a dicker as to make Washingtonians who study politics as a fine art absolutely certain that he has been promised the war portfolio by Harrison in the event of Harrison's re-election, provided always that the stories concerning Sickles are true and that he really does intend to support the Indianan for re-election. The public will probably never know the terms of the dicker. Two things will prevent light from shining on the subject. In the first place Mr. Harrison will not be re-elected and therefore will have no war portfolio to give out, and in the second place his treatment of Tom Platt whom he promised to make secretary of the treasury, proves that he would probably not keep a promise if he made one.

But it was not the Sickles' deflection, if deflection it might be called, that set all political Washington to talking. It was the simple avowal on the part of Judge Gresham that he would vote against the party with which he was affiliated for 30 years and that he would vote in favor of the party that advocates tariff reform, local control of elections and honesty in office. Astute politicians here say that if Judge Gresham's action is not worth at least 2,000 to 3,000 votes to the democratic party in Indiana then there is nothing in personal magnetism and influence.

He is as clean a man as there is in public life. First appointed to the bench by General Grant without solicitation on his own part, without even expectation, he made a record of which any man might be proud. He was also called to the cabinet without expectation on his part, and he went from the cabinet to the bench again because such men as he are needed by the judiciary. Monopolists, corporate and individual, hate Gresham worse than the devil could ever have hated holy water. He has proven their direst enemy. He might have been the republican candidate for president long ago if he had truckled to the money power, but of this power he has never had any favors to ask, but has pursued the even tenor of his way, performing his duty as he has found it and interpreting the law as it is written.

The Influecne of that One Vote.

There is a certain class of citizens in Indiana who admire Gresham. It is not of the bubbling sort, and of course does not worship him. Those who compose this class would not slobber over any man but Judge Gresham, and his conduct will be looked upon by them as significant and they will doubtless be largely influenced by it. Administration circles here are glum. They would be willing to swap a dozen Sickles off for one Gresham, but no such trade is possible, and they are whistling a sort of graveyard refrain to keep their courage up.

Gresham never sought the office in his life. He has never sought to be a potent factor in the affairs of the government. He is one of the few men to whom honors have come, political honors, without the asking.

A NEW RAILROAD

Presents Incorporation Papers at Columbus.

Columbus, Oct. 4.—One of the most important corporations which has come before the secretary of state for some time was that of the New York & Chicago Short Line Railroad company, of Sandusky, which presented articles yesterday. The road will be a direct and short route from the east to the west. Passing through Ohio it will take in the following counties: Trumbull, Mahoning, Portage, Cuyahoga, Medina, Summit, Erie, Lorain, Sandusky, Wood, Ottawa, Lucas and Williams. The capital stock is $100,000, with the following incorporators: John Jay McKelvie of New York; Charles A. Judson, M. V. Latham, Sandusky.

FLORIDA ELECTIONS.

The People's Party is in the Field,

But It Don't Seem to Stand Much Show for Votes.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 4.—The weather is fair in Florida to-day and the election is progressing quietly. The voting strength of the people's party is a new factor and the extent to which its ticket, headed by Alonzo P. Barker, will attract the support of qualified republican voters cannot be predicted by either side with any degree of accuracy.

The most liberal allowance of the democrats concedes to Barker not over 6,000 votes which have heretofore been democratic. In order to give Mitchell a majority of 15,000 over Barker (upon the former's estimated vote of 33,000) the people's party candidate must get 12,000 votes from republican sources. Democrats do not believe he will poll anything like 18,000.

If Judge Mitchell gets approximately 33,000 votes his majority over Barker will probably be nearer 20,000 than 15,000.

DIFFERENCES ADJUSTED.

And a Long Strike Will Be Ended by Resumption of Work.

St. Marys, O., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The Bimel Standish Manufacturing company this morning satisfactorily adjusted the differences that have been existing between them and their employes and next Monday 125 chainmakers will return to work, after having been out four months.

The majority of these chainmakers belong to the Amalgamated association of iron and steel workers and they demanded the same scale as at Pittsburg.

FOSTER WILL BE THERE.

Woburn, Mass., Oct. 4.—Judge Johnson, chairman of the banquet committee of Woburn's 250th anniversary celebration, has received a letter from Secretray of State Foster in which he states that he expects to leave Washington for Woburn Thursday. He hopes to be able to take a return train for New York on Friday night after the exercises are over.

A charming and unique art entertainment under the name of "Poses Plastiques," will be given Oct. 12 and 14, in the Central Congregational church.

PILOTS ON WAR SHIPS.

Commanders May Employ Them in Harbors with Which They Are Not Familiar.

Washington, Oct. 4.—For eleven years the employment of pilots on government vessels has been forbidden, the responsibility of bringing war ships through difficult channels being placed upon commanders. The futility of this endeavor to save money has been shown repeatedly in many accidents to naval vessels through the ignorance of their commanders of harbors into which they sailed, and courts of inquiry and court-martials followed as a matter of course. The experiences of the Atlanta, the Concord, the Vesuvius, the tugs Nina and Fern, and several others, have shown the department that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and hereafter reliable pilots will take the places of naval officers on the bridges of naval vessels when entering ports with the channels of which the commanders are unacquainted.

The order restricting the use of pilots was issued in 1881 by Secretary Hunt, and until the present time no secretary of the navy has taken the responsibility of authorizing the additional expenditure of money which a return to the old system would necessitate. During these 11 years petitions from associations of pilots for a reversal of the order have been almost constant, and presidents and congress have also been importuned to bring about the old condition of things. Especially active has been the Pilots' association of New York, and a recent appeal from it to Secretary Tracy, following the grounding of the Vesuvius near Hell Gate and the tug Fern near Portsmouth, N. H., was successful in securing the change desired. The order leaves it discretionary with the commanders of vessels to decide whether such employment is necessary.

WHICH IS WHICH?

Rumors About the Carnegie Steel Works.

Report That 500 Men Have Quit

Is Denied by the Company—Strike Cases Before the Grand Jury.

Homestead, Pa., Oct. 4.—Two coal and iron police, who left the employ of the Carnegie Steel company to-day are authority for the statement that since Saturday last 500 of the non-union employes of the company have quit work at the mills and returned to their homes.

The mill officials deny this and say only a very few men have left and they were discharged for incompetency. The officials claim that the plant is running successfully.

When asked regarding the suspension of work on the armor plate contract for the cruiser Monterey the officials said the difficulty was not due to any fault of the Carnegie Steel company and claim that armor plate is being made in sufficient quantities to meet the requirements of the government.

Strike Cases.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—The cases against the Carnegie Steel company officials in which Hugh Ross and Burgess McLuckie are the prosecuting witnesses, will go before the grand jury at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

It was stated in Homestead yesterday that in case neither Ross nor McLuckie appeared, others of the strikers would act in their stead. Ross is known to be in Pittsburg, but it is not thought he will show up, while McLuckie is in Ohio and says he will not return to Pennsylvania without a requisition until the time for the trials arrives.

At 2 p. m. the cases were in progress. Between 40 and 50 witnesses have been subpoenaed and it is not expected that any returns will be made to-day.

SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

Post Mortem Ordered On Dann's Body.

It Is Thought by Some That He Committed Suicide by Poison.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 4.—A postmortem has been ordered in the case of Edward S. Dann, the bank wrecker, whose death is surrounded by circumstances suspicious enough to warrant an investigation, and the autopsy will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Matters of great financial importance are involved in the result.

Should it reveal suicide, the heavy insurance which it is said Dann carried on his life will possibly not be paid, as it is said the policies stipulate that they are to become null and void in the case of self-destruction. This may in a measure account for the secrecy with which the facts regarding his case have been guarded by his family and friends.

Dr. Harrington said to-day that he believed that the postmortem examiner would find a hemorrhage on the brain, proving that death was caused by apoplexy.

If the autopsy discloses the presence of poison an inquest by jury will be held.

The death of Dann deprives his accomplices, Armstrong and McCredie, of a person who they claim would be an important witness in their behalf.

FOUND WITH HIS NECK BROKEN.

Upper Sandusky, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Andreas Esterle, a well-known resident of this place, was found dead in the grass near the wagon bridge east of town, this morning. His neck was broken and it is supposed that he fell off the stone abutment while returning home last night. He was a butcher and was working across the river yesterday.

BARN AND GRAIN BURNED.

Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 4.—(Special)—Andrew Fisher's large barn, with all its contents, about two miles south of town, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. The live stock in the barn was gotten out, but the grain, of which there were 1,000 bushels each of wheat, corn and oats, and all the farming implements, were consumed. The loss is $5,000, covered by $1,000 insurance.

STABLES BURNED.

New York, Oct. 4.—The auction stables of Fiss & Doer, 147 to 151 East Twenty-fourth street, were burned yesterday. There were 300 horses in the stables awaiting sale and they made a wild rush for the street, creating considerable excitement. They were finally secured without injury. The loss by fire is $3,000; fully insured.

DIED FROM INJURIES.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Henry Walbaum, the fire engine driver who was struck by a Chicago & Northern Pacific locomotive while driving to a fire last night, died this morning at the county hospital of his injuries.

The women interested in the club building project are solicited to remember the meeting, Friday next, at the Bee editorial rooms, at 3:30. An important matter is to be decided.

A fellow named Ammonia has bought an interest in the "Red Onion" drug store at Sturgeon, Kan.

BYRON RITCHIE

Named by the Democrats of This District

As the Man to Send Ashley to Defeat.

His Nomination to the Congressional Race Made on the First Ballot.

Bowling Green, Oct. 4.—(Special)—The Lucas county delegation arrived here divided as usual.

Dr. Wilkins, of Fulton county, had been mixing with the boys and with the understanding that Lucas county had no candidate many of the delegates had expressed a willingness to vote for him.

When the delegation arrived here, however, it was stated that Byron Ritchie would make the race and a strong boom for him was started. Lucas county held her organization meeting in the office of Cole & Chase with the following results:

Chairman, Parks Hone; secretary, T. J. Dowling; vice-president, Nathan Gardner; credentials, M. Horrington; resolutions, M. M. Eppstein; rules, etc., F. E. Wright; congressional committeeman, John Bolin.

A motion was made in the Lucas county meeting to have Byron Ritchie come in and declare himself a candidate, but this motion was bitterly opposed by the delegates who were friendly to Wilkins. After a long discussion a motion to adjourn was carried and Byron was not permitted to tell the Lucas delegates that he would make the race.

It is Ritchie.

At the afternoon session F. E. Wright nominated Byron F. Ritchie in a splendid speech. Dr. Campbell, of Fulton, named Dr. J. A. Wilkins.

The first ballot resulted—Ritchie, Lucas, 85; Ottawa, 29; Wood, 23.

Wilkins, Fulton, 17; Wood, 23.

Ritchie's nomination was made unanimous and Byron whooped it up in one of his stirring democratic speeches.

Labor Notes.

The meeting held by the Metal Polishers' union in Rensch's hall last evening was very interesting.

The first part of the meeting a closed session was held at which routine business was disposed of and two members initiated.

The meeting was then opened, and a large number attended this part of the exercises.

Mr. T. M. Daly, general secretary of the International Metal Polishers' union, made an interesting speech, and there were short talks by local speakers.

Mr. Daly has been six weeks on the road, taking in the larger cities, and his efforts at organization have been very satisfactory.

He is much pleased at the healthy condition of the Toledo union.

Interesting, but not important, sessions were held by the cigarmakers, tailors, and Building Trades council last night.

Forfeited Their Bail.

Officer Frisch had some trouble about 1:30 this morning at an alleged bawdy house presided over by Jennie Bennett at the corner of South Erie and Short streets.

Frisch heard sounds of a disturbance on the inside, but when he attempted to enter, the door was barred against him. He then battered the door down with a beer keg and arrested two inmates—Jas. Conly and L. Low—on a charge of disturbance, and took the Bennett woman in custody on the charge of resisting an officer.

All the parties furnished bail, but when their cases were called in police court to-day they failed to put in an appearance. Jennie Bennett forfeited $50 and the other two $15 each.

Escaped From the City Prison.

Andrew Sutten, under arrest for forgery, and Patrick Mehady, alias Sullivan, who was arrested for assault and battery and for carrying concealed weapons, escaped from the police station late yesterday afternoon by unlocking the door to the cell room with the key that had been left in the lock by the turnkey.

After liberating themselves from the jail proper, the coolly and quietly walked out of the station house and have not been seen since. Sutten was wanted by the Indiana authorities for forging checks, and was being held to await the arrival of requisition papers. Mehady, or Sullivan, was awaiting trial for viciously assaulting Market Space.

All on Account of a Poodle.

C. F. Nighswander, living on Irving street, near Collingwood avenue, this morning caused the arrest of two boys named Tredwell and Whittingham, charging them with cruelty to animals.

Mr. Nighswander owned a Scotch terrier dog which he claims the boys yesterday coaxed out of the yard, and cut it to pieces, afterwards burying the body. He claims the boys were throwing stones at the dog the day before, and Mrs. Nighswander remonstrated with them for so doing, and that they killed the dog out of pure malice.

METHODIST PREACHERS.

Where They May be Addressed for the Coming Year.

Toledo Pastors Return With One Exception.

But There Has Been a Shake-Up in Other Localities—Conference Committees—A Summing Up.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 4.—(Special)—The Central Ohio conference closed last night one of the most pleasant sessions it has ever held. From the very beginning of the session to its close there has been one continual flow of good feeling and godly fellowship among the preachers, everyone seeming to be perfectly satisfied with his stopping place, and showing little or no anxiety as to his appointment, but feeling assured that all would be well, and this was not because there were no important changes to be made, nor many, for there are as many changes this year as is generally the case, and half of the more prominent charges changed their pastors.

The session has been marked by a spirituality that has not for years been so high. The preachers have been as eager to attend the devotional meetings as the regular business sessions of the conference. Too much cannot be said of the Pentecostal meetings held daily at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Dr. S. A. Keen and Mr. Hillis, the sweet singer. The methods of Dr. Keen are not as the most of evangelists we have come in contact with. He places the highest estimate on conversion, and after that he simply urges all to seek the baptism of the Holy Ghost. To leave the power from on high to do the work God has laid upon every one to do.

Besides the evangelistic services, the lectures delivered by Rev. G. K. Morris, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's church, Cincinnati, delivered every morning from 8 to 9 o'clock, were full of thrilling interest to every preacher. These lectures were not in the nature of elocutionary addresses, but practical plans were discussed as to the best method for the preacher to pursue, physically, mentally and spiritually, to bring him up to his very best. Dr. Morris' manner was greatly admired by the conference, and he was cordially invited to return at our next session.

Then, in addition to these important helps, we have had a bishop, kind and thoughtful of the interest of every pastor. Bishop Ninde will always be cordially welcomed by the Central Ohio conference whenever he may be appointed to come to preside at its sessions.

Last, but not least, there were about as near perfect arrangements for the entertainment of the conference as we have seen. Van Wert will always be a bright spot in the memory of the preachers, as the place where one of our best sessions of conference were held.

Monday afternoon was mainly taken up in hearing reports from committees. The most of these were on the regular subjects and were ordinary reports. The one that provoked the most debate was from the committee on the claims of the Book Concern. It seems that the accounts of some of the preachers have been allowed to run on from year to year unsettled, until the aggregate amount runs up to nearly or quite $7,000. The body was informed that a large bulk of these accounts are against men who have left the conference, and one of over half a thousand is from some one who is no longer a member of the Methodist church, but here they are, and the agents, in trying to settle, found they could collect only about 42 1-2 per cent. of the whole amount of the indebtedness. The committee reported the matter in full, strongly condemning the men who are in debt to the Concern, and demanding that they settle up, but the conference remanded the report back to the committee and they brought in another much milder, which was adopted. The discussion will doubtless stir up many of the preachers who have been careless, and the amount collected at the session a year hence will no doubt be much larger than the present year.

Dr. Rutledge's report on the Episcopal fund produced considerable discussion, the doctor alleging that quite a large amount was apportioned to the annual conference above that required for the support of the bishops. It was said that this was done to have a margin so that the bishops would be sure to get their entire claim, but many of the brethren thought the pastors and presiding elders had an equal right to have their claims apportioned high, so there might be no difficulty, while others felt it to be the right thing to do, and said it would be a shame for the chief pastors of the church to fail to get their full salary. The report was adopted.

The committee on Epworth league made their report which is given in full as follows:

We rejoice in the reorganization of the Epworth league by the last general conference and believe the wisdom of organizing Methodist young people in denominational society will be more and more manifest as the years roll by. Feeling an intense desire to see all Methodists and especially the young people of Methodism, marching to certain victory under our banner, we will hail with joy the day when an Epworth league will be reported from every society within the bounds of this conference. While we welcome the league as peculiarly a young people's society designed to develop Christian character and well calculated to engender and direct religious enthusiasm, we would view with unfeigned regret any tendency to exclusiveness by which the older and younger members of the church shoud be separated in their sympathies and church enterprises and would especially deplore the withdrawal of young life and its helpfulness from regular church services.

We would recommend that pastors be found in all league meetings and that league members continue to be the helpers on which pastors may rely with confidence.

We record with grateful hearts the efficient work performed by the league in special or revival services and believe that its usefulness in this line cannot be overestimated.

The committee on prohibition made their report through Rev. S. L. Roberts, reaffirming the declarations of the general conference, and, as Mr. Roberts said, Dr. Whitlock wrote the report of general conference and was on this committee, therefore the committee felt they had the right to place the report in our own minutes as the action of our own conference. The report was adopted.

On motion of Dr. Belt the general missionary committee were requested to appropriate $1,000 to be used in our fast growing city of Toledo.

Hurrah for the Epworths!

The Epworthians of the Central Ohio conference had a grand day at Van Wert on Saturday afternoon. The large and beautiful church was crowded to its highest capacity. The enthusiasm manifested showed how large a hold this movement has on the young people within the bounds of this conference.

R. R. Bane, of Columbus, president of this conference league, delivered the anniversary address. W. H. Leatherman, of Elida, followed, and J. L. Albritton also made an address.

Interesting music was interspersed, and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. For over two hours the audience were held by the earnestness and thoughts of the speakers. The hearty applause that greeted their truths told how heartily the listeners entered into the spirit of the occasion.

Mr. Bane recited the aim of the league in the conference for the coming year—an increased spirituality among the members and a chapter in every church of the conference.

The second speaker told of the results of the Epworth movement as it had come under his observation. Churches were strengthened everywhere, and a great work was being done among the people.

The third speaker spoke of the Epworth league as a revival agency, and that its force was being felt everywhere.

In the conference there are 154 chapters with a total membership of 10,283 persons. One grand army battling in the interests of Christianity.

WITH BIG REVOLVERS.

Four Desperadoes Attempt to Rob a Bank

In Broad Daylight—They Get Nothing and Are Now in Jail.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 4.—The most intense excitement was caused yesterday by a daring attempt to rob the Keystone National bank. It was about 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon and no customers were in the bank. Assistant Cashier Frank Kepler and Clerk Charles Liebel were busy balancing their books and counting money and checks when suddenly a quartet of tough looking strangers burst into the room, revolvers in hand. The strangers took positions at each of the windows around the desks, within, and pointing their revolvers at the heads of the two clerks told them to throw up their hands.

Instead of doing as directed the cashier snatched up a paperweight, and was about dealing the fellow nearest him a blow on the head when two shots were fired by the intruders. One of the bullets struck Kepler in the left cheek, inflicting a serious but not dangerous wound.

The young man fell fainting to the floor, and the robbers becoming frightened ran from the bank and fled up Eighth street. The shooting had attracted a crowd and a number of citizens gave chase. The robbers, finding the pursuit too hot, turned on their pursuers and opened fire, but fortunately no one was injured.

Finally Special Officer Wm. Doehrel overtook the desperadoes and with drawn revolver commanded them to surrender. The answer was a shot from a huge army revolver. As Officer Doehrel was in the act of returning the fire, the four men thought better of it and gave themselves up. They were handcuffed together and marched to the police station and locked up in separate cells.

On being searched nine revolvers of different calibre and a collection of knives and brass knuckles were found on them. The prisoners gave their names as John Courtney and C. H. Hawley, of New York city, Dan P. Evans and Chas. W. Smith, of Syracuse.

REVOLUTION THREATENED.

Affairs in the Hawaiian Islands in Bad Shape.

Fears That American Interests May Suffer—War Ships on the Scene.

New York, Oct. 4.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: According to late advices received at the state department from Minister Stevens, affairs on the Hawaiian Islands are growing from bad to worse. Serious political troubles, which may develop into a revolution, are feared.

That the state department views the situation with some concern is shown by a request from Secretary Foster that the orders for the cruiser Boston to leave Honolulu for Acapulco, where she was to join Rear Admiral Gherardi's special fleets, be countermanded, and that the Alliance be kept at Honolulu until affairs become more tranquil. The navy department promptly acquiesced.

Telegraphic instructions to this effect were sent to San Francisco Saturday last, and are in the mail which left there by steamer for Honolulu the same day. The orders for the Boston to sail were sent by the Alliance, which left San Francisco early last week, and it may happen that the Boston will get off before the mail steamer arrived with the countermanded orders. In that event another vessel will be sent from San Francisco to join the Alliance in looking after American interests in Hawaii.

The state department fears that something may happen to destroy our chances of securing control of Pearl harbor as a coaling station.

MICHIGAN LIQUOR DEALERS

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 4—The wholesale and retail liquor dealers' association of the state issued a confidencial circular from Saginaw calling a state convention to be held here Oct. 18 and 19.

There are over 5,000 liquor dealers in Michigan and it is understood party lines will be dropped in contest for the legislature and the men supported who will best serve the liquor interests. The convention will also indorse a gubernatorial candidate.

A GREAT DANGER.

You May Be Prostrated in the Same Terrible Manner.

Thousands are nervous and suffer from mental exhaustion, brain fatigue, weak and irritable nerves, sleeplessness, depression of mind and shattered nerves, without realizing the danger or the fearful results which follow neglect of these symptoms.

It is nerve and brain exhaustion from overwork or nervous disease, which makes the brain tired, the arm nerveless, the limbs trembling, the muscles weak, and the body without strength and energy, and, unless cured, the end will be shattered nerves, fatal kidney and liver disease, heart failure, insanity, with softening of the brain, paralysis or death.

Remember, neglect alone is dangerous. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, the wonderful restorer of health, strength and vigor, and your bad feelings will disappear as by magic. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.00.

"For the good of the public I would like to state the wonderful change that has come over me since I commenced taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I was completely broken down in health and suffered from extreme exhaustion and could not rest day or night. I had rheumatism and neuralgia in my sides, an all-gone feeling in my stomach and a terrible palpitation, causing me to think I had heart disease. I had to give up work. After consulting and treating with several eminent physicians with no benefit, I at last tried Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. From the first bottle I noticed very little change, but I am thankful that I continued its use, for I am now well, have gained 23 pounds in weight and work every day. That trembling feeling and terrible throbbing and palpitation of the heart have left me. I could fill columns that would interest people afflicted as I was, and will be glad to converse with anyone so afflicted. W. C. Miles, 4 Manning street, Medford, Mass."

Dr. Greene, the most successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th street, New York, can be consulted, free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Messrs. J. W. Greene & Co. report the largest sales in the history of their business, and especially is this true of the celebrated Standard sewing machine. The rotary shuttle is undoubtedly far superior to the old style shuttle machines, and the one-priced system adopted by this house some two and one-half years since has proven a good thing for both purchaser and seller. Absolutely one price to all, and that the lowest cash price. Parties desiring time can secure it by simply paying 6 per cent. interest. If you desire the best and at the lowest price possible, when quality is considered, buy the Standard Rotary Shuttle.

We have no old, last season's styles or makes in the way of "Cloaks." Every garment is new.

Enright Squelched.

Ex-Justice of the Peace Enright appeared in police court this morning during the absence of his arch-enemy, Judge Sala, and attempted to cut a figure on the witness stand in a case in which he was interested. Temporary Judge Merrill would not have things that way, however, and Enright was squelched.

Fell into a Basket of Eggs.

An interesting assault and battery case came up in police court to-day. Joseph Stoup, who lives on South St. Clair street and who is now under a $500 bail bond to keep the peace, had Christian Antoine arrested for assaulting him. The evidence was conflicting, but tended to show that Stoup fell or was thrown into a basket of eggs in a certain grocery store during the altercation with Antoine. The latter party was fined $5 and the costs.

He Got Five and Costs.

A. C. Byers, a Clyde, O., man who does not stand in with the republican officials here, was arrested early this morning for carrying a concealed weapon. He came to Toledo yesterday afternoon and put up at the Hotel Jefferson. It was not made apparent in police court just how the officer who made the arrest—Frisch—discovered that Byers had a revolver, but nevertheless he was fined $5 and the costs.

The prices charged are reasonable, considering the amount of work, and the material.

The case of George Mensing, arrested for violating a health ordinance, was continued until October 14, but the case of E. E. Scott, who was arrested for the same offense, was marked off the docket. The case of Bert Smith, charged with assault and battery, was continued until to-morrow.

Walter B. Richie for Governor.

The Defiance Evening News of last evening has the following on a well-known democrat:

Although the political battle in Ohio for 1892 hardly been opened, the friends of Hon. W. B. Richie, including many of the most prominent democratic politicians of the state, have already begun convassing that gentleman's name for the gubernatorial nomination next fall.

Mr. Richie is not only strong in northfor the nomination for the office of governor or for any other office, and it is not known that he will consent to the use of his name in this connection. Walter, as he is familiarly known in nearly every city, town and hamlet in the state, is one of the most deservedly popular young democrats in Ohio. He is an able lawyer, a brilliant and forcible speaker and one of the most thoroughly equipped politicians in the state.

Mr. Richie has often been importuned to become the candidate of his party for different offices, but, although always actively engaged in helping to fight the political battle of others, he has unalterably refused to permit the use of his name in connection with the candidacy of any office. If Walter shall conclude to permit his name to go before the next democratic state convention and he should be chosen as the democratic standard-bearer in 1893, his election would be almost a foregone conclusion.

Mr. Ritchie is not only strong in Northwestern Ohio, but he is strong in every part of the state, especially in Cincinnati, where his friends are legion, and where some of the strongest advocates of his candidacy reside.

LATE MARKETS.

The following shows the receipts of grain for the periods named, at eight principal western points, as given in our tables herein:

	Wheat bu.	Corn bu.	Oats bu.
This week...	8148000	2881000	2907000
Prev. week..	7660000	2681000	2775000
Week ending Sept. 26, '91.	7270000	2598000	2320000

The above shows a gain in this week's receipts of wheat compared with 1891 of 878,000 bu., corn an increase of 283,000 bu., and in oats an increase of 587,008 bu.

Bradstreet's reports exports of wheat and flour from both coasts, for a week, at 3,711,000 bu. Previous week, wheat and flour, 3,384,000 bu. Corresponding week in 1891, 4,711,000 bu. Less wheat and more flour last week than previous week.

The salient point in the above statements is, that the receipts of wheat at eight western points—which is an index of the whole movement—exceed the receipts in corresponding week in 1891 by 878,000 bu., and the exports in 1891 exceed 1892, same week, just 1,000,000 bu.

The receipts at the points mentioned, in September thus far, are 30,193, compared with 29,782,000 bu. in the corresponding period in 1891.

The Markets To-Day.

The receipts of wheat at Toledo to-day are 23,623 bu. less than on Tuesday of last week and 128,704 bu. in excess of the receipts on the corresponding Tuesday in 1891.

Herein we state the receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal points, total 1,598,651 bu.; same day in 1891 the receipts were 1,320,282 bu.; excess to-day, 278,369 bu., including northwest wheat. The receipts at five other points to-day are 348,568 bu. in excess of Tuesday, 1891.

We do not consider the decrease in wheat on ocean passage of 568,000 bus. a bullish item at all. To the United Kingdom there is an increase of 256,000 bus. and the inference is that our low prices attract their buyers. To the continent there is a decrease of 824,000 bus. and if the continent does not want wheat of us at these prices, it don't show much of a bullish spirit. It is not bullish because, instead of increasing the ocean stock, we are decreasing it, and piling it up in our visible tables.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 661,379 bus. and from five other western points 937,272 bus; total, 1,598,651 bus. On the corresponding Tuesday the same points were 1,320,282 bus, including 731,978 bus northwest wheat, leaving as the movement from the five other points 588,304 bus, compared with 937,272 bus to-day.

Export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 300,625 bu., and flour to an aggregate of 350,000 bu.

English markets, as reported herein, are firmer for wheat and steady for corn.

English wheat crop in threshing is disappointing, and the Mark Lane Express herein says the quality is one shilling and six pence per quarter lower than in 1891—about 4 1-2c per bushel. The present price in their country markets is the lowest on record.

In New York the advance was 5-8c on December and May wheat and 5-8c on May corn. October wheat closed at 78 3-8, December at 82c and May at 88c, a gain on all of 5-8c. October corn 54 1-4c and dMay at 56 3-8c, a gain on each of 5-8c. Oct. oats at 36 3-8c, a gain of 1-2c.

In Chicago December wheat closed at 76 5-8c, a gain of 7-8c. May at 81 7-8c a gain of 1c. October corn at 44 1-2, a gain of 1-4c; May at 48 1-8c, a gain of 5-8c. October oats at 31 3-8c, a gain of 3-8c.

In Toledo—The trading in wheat futures was as light as usual, without new elements of influence on prices, except the gain other markets. So far as the eye can reach the influences remain the same, except as noted herein. We close with a gain of 3-4c on October and cash wheat. December 58c and May 1-2c. On the call November wheat sold at 75 1-4c to 75 1-4@75 3-8c, and closed at 75 1-4c; December at 77c, May at 82 1-4c to 82 1-2c and 82 1-4c. On the regular board October sold at 74c to 74 1-4c, December at 77c to 77 3-8c and May at 82 1-4c to 82 1-2c. Cash wheat was in better demand than yesterday. No. 2 soft sold at 74c and 74 1-4c in L. S. At close 74 1-4c was the market. No. 3 soft at 67 3-4c to 69 1-4c and 69 1-2c L. S. At close 68c was bid regular. No. 4 soft at 61c to 60 1-2c. Rye and wheat at 42c.

Corn—No. 2 at 44 1-2c; No. 3 at 44c.

Rye—No. 2 at 56; No. 3 at 50 1-2c.

Clover seed was a little firmer at opening, but closed at about yesterday's prices. Prime for cash at $6 30; January at $6 42 1-2, March at $6 55; No. 2 at $6 10 @6 15.

New York, Oct. 4.—Money on call continues to loan at moderately high rates. The ruling rates for coal loans this morning were 4@5 per cent. Exchange quiet; posted rates $4.86@4.87 1-2; actual rates $4.85@4.85 1-4 for 60 days and $4.86 1-2 4.86 3-4 for demand.

Governments steady; currency, 6s, 107 bid; 4s coupon, 114 1-4 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 1-4 bid.

The stock market this morning was more active than on any morning in several months. The sales to noon aggregated 215,410 shares. Prices opened firm and fractionally higher and further advanced in the early trading. New England was a feature and advanced 2 3-8 per cent. General electric advanced 2 1-2 per cent. The advance in a majority of cases up to noon ranged from 1-8 to 1 1-2 per cent. At this writing the market is still strong.

New York, Oct. 4.—Flour dull and unchanged, city mill extras $4 25@4 35 for West Indies; fine, $1 65@2 10; superfine, $1 70@2 20. Wheat opened firm and continued firm in the early dealings, advancing 3-8c. Toward noon it reacted 1-8c. No. 2 red winter, 79 1-4c cash; 78 3-4c October; 80c November; 81 5-8c December; 87 3-4c May. Corn opened firm and 5-8c higher and subsequently reacted 1-4c. No. 2 mixed, 52 1-4c cash; 51 3-8c October; 52 1-8c bid November; 53 1-8c December. Oats opened firm and advanced 3-8c. No. 2 mixed, 33 1-4c cash and October; 37 3-8c November. Rye and barley dull and unchanged. Molasses nominal. Only five weeks to election and what a loud silence reigns upon the country. It means a deal of thinking and some bombshell surprises from the ballot box next month.

Pity the foolish-minded democrat when he charges that the mortgages on real estate are due to the republican tariff. Democrats right here in Toledo give mortgages every day that are solely the sequence of fortunate trades and purchases and reflect the mortgagors' prosperity and nothing else.—Morning Organ.

The difficulty is to make the struggling farmer believe this, or even the casual observer of events when he reads column after column of foreclosure and mortgage sale of farms, from the official record.

From Mr. Carnegie's castled fortress in the Scotch Highlands he dictates the arrest of his locked-out workmen for "treason to the state." Verily all this great man needs to become king is a crown. It is fortunate for him he prefers residence under British rule to life in the country where he lords it with such arrogance. His welcome to the land of his prosperity would not be a flattering one. With the example of this iron oligarchy before our eyes, do the people desire to tax themselves to rear any more such monsters of greed and ingratitude?

Democrats can afford to exchange Gen. Sickles for Judge Gresham. Gen. Sickles makes the sole issue of his campaign, the pension business. Not the pensioning of the deserving soldiery, but he shoulders the whole rotten administration of Tanner and Raum, and upholds the pension shark system by which favored lawyers are able, with a fee of a few years thus collected, to build marble mansions fit for a Croesus to reside in. Better republicans than he is democrat have bitterly denounced the jobbery and corruption that he makes it his mission to excuse and advocate. The United States consul, brought home the other day for obtaining his place by virtue of false claim to great military service rendered the country, is but one example of nobody knows how many. The democratic party can spare all the "patriots" who desire to make the notorious political machine in Washington (not the good care of deserving veterans) the platform upon which they orate in the present campaign.

A LOSER FOR MCKINLEY.

A tariff object lesson is presented in the following letter from Michael Doran, a Columbus street car driver, addressed to the author of our present tariff law—a lesson which protectionists generally, as well as our distinguished Governor, may well study. It is a knock-down argument against the theories advanced by the high taxers:

"Hon. Wm. McKinley—Dear Sir: I read your speeches in the house of representatives during the Fifty-first congress, when the tariff bill was under discussion, in which you asserted and made me believe that the foreigners paid our taxes. I also read your speech as presiding officer of the republican national convention at Minneapolis, in which you asserted again that the foreigner paid our taxes. My mother sent me over a dozen pairs of socks from Ireland a few days ago, each pair being worth about twenty cents. My brother, who brought them to me, had to pay twenty-five cents a pair tariff duties on the socks at the New York custom house. Will you please be kind enough to tell me to what foreign government I shall apply to have that $3 refunded to me? If the foreigner pays the tax, as you say he does, I am entitled to get my money back, but I do not know just exactly to what government to apply, and I hope you will be kind enough to inform me by return mail.

"Yours truly,
"MICHAEL DORAN."

MR. BLAINE AS A HISTORIAN.

The driver into history—recent political history—could make all the democratic arguments necessary for the campaign from the utterances of hitherto trusted men of the republican party, men whom the party yet proudly claims when it orates and perorates. In Mr. Blaine's "Twenty Years in Congress," it is written:

The tariff of 1816 was yielding abundant revenue, and the business of the country was in a flourishing condition. Money became very abundant after the year 1849, large enterprises were undertaken, speculation was prevalent, and for a considerable period the prosperity of the country was general and apparently genuine. After 1852 the democrats had almost undisputed control of the government, and had gradually become a free-trade party. The principle involved in the tariff of 1846 seemed for the time to be so entirely vindicated and approved that resistance to it ceased, not only among the people, but among the protective economists and even among the manufacturers to a large extent. So general was this acquiescence that in 1856 a protective tariff was not suggested or even hinted at by any one of the then parties which presented presidential candidates.

The civil war interrupted this period of acquiescence on the tariff question, and the republican party, seeing how easy a thing it had become to collect taxes from the people, and what a strong oligarchy could be built up by it and for it, they hastened to ingraft the war-tax idea upon the country in times of perfect peace and prosperity. It is for voters to inform themselves if this is a wise and a just policy. The foremost leader of their party, Mr. Blaine, has warned his fellow politicians, time and again, of their untenable position.

ADVENTURESS IN HARD LUCK.

New York, Oct. 4.—Miss Bessie Jackson, who alleges that Wm. N. Handy, whose mistress she says she was after she left her husband, and whom she charges with stealing $800 worth of jewelry, with whom he fled to Chicago, called at the office of the district attorney and asked to have Handy indicted. The district attorney gave her no encouragement and refused even to send her before the grand jury. She also applied at one of the police courts for a warrant for Handy's arrest but this was also refused.

CASES ARGUED

In Ten Suits Over the New York Apportionment.

A Question of Constitutionality for the Court of Appeals.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—There was quite an array of counsel in the court of appeals this morning when the session opened at 10 o'clock. The court had postponed the argument in the apportionment cases from yesterday and heard them this morning. The cases with appearances were as follows: The people ex-rel Bond appellant, vs. the board of supervisors of Monroe county. The court is asked to issue a writ of mandamus compelling the board of supervisors of Monroe county to re-district the assembly districts in that county in compliance with the apportionment law passed by the legislature. Mr. C. D. Kiehl, city attorney of Rochester, for the appellant, and A. W. Sutherland, of Rochester, for the respondents.

The second case, the people ex-rel Horn, appellant, vs. the board of supervisors of Oneida county; the same proceedings as in the Monroe county case. Argued by H. J. Cookingham, of Utica, for the relator, and by W. E. Sempture and J. S. F. Earle, of Utica, for the respondents.

Third case, the people ex-rel George C. Carter, of Utica, vs. Frank Rice, secretary of state. It asks the court to grant an injunction order restraining the secretary of state from recognizing the new apportionment law, or sending out notices of election of members of assembly to county clerks under the law. Arguments by Edward R. Riseley, of Utica, for appellant, and Attorney General Rosendale for respondents.

While each case was argued separately and briefs presented in each one, the question of constitutionality of the apportionment and locality of the extra senators were practically argued on by Attorney General Rosendale for and Mr. A. W. Sutherland against. All of the other arguments followed in the same points except as to important local features.

It is believed that the court will be ready with an opinion by Tuesday next.

A CENTURY OF INVENTION.

This century has been distinguished above any other in history by grand inventions and discoveries. It would be an endless task to mention all of these. What wonderful aid they have lent to human labor in every department! How production and consequent wealth have been increased by the aid of these inventions and discoveries, and by the progress of the different sciences. Every civilized country on the globe has immensely profited by the discovery and application of the power of steam. Who could estimate fully the agency of labor-saving inventions in pushing forward the civilization of the world? France, England, Germany, Russia, Italy, our own beloved country, and others. What astonishing material progress! But if you will listen, dear reader, to the partisan orator of protection, he will dwell long and loudly on all all this marvellous development, and ascribe it all to the tariff tax!!

All wealth comes primarily from the soil and from the sea. Millions of industrious and energetic workers have come from the old world and have helped us to develop this wealth. They have aided mightily to build our railroads and our streets and cities. It costs about a thousand dollars to rear up a workingman. Millions have landed on our shores ready to go to work. Myriads of agencies have been applied to develop the riches of our mines and our prairies. No other country on the globe has offered such rich natural opportunities to labor and enterprise. And they have been mightily improved and with mighty results—

But it's all owing to the McKinley bill!!
CHAS. CRAVENS.

THE GREAT RACE

By Military Officers Between Vienna and Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—Lieut. Mikleos, one of the Austrian military officers taking part in the long distance ride from Vienna to Berlin, arrived in this city at 9:20 o'clock this morning. He was the first to complete the journey, having made the distance in 74 hours and 20 minutes.

Lieut.-Col. Aladar Von Mikleos was received with enthusiasm by the German officers, who had gathered round the station of the empress. He was lifted from his horse and, after handshaking and congratulations, was brought to the city in a carriage. He was tired and pale. His horse is lame.

Vienna, Oct. 4.—Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia was in Znaim at noon and is expected to arrive at Floridsdorf at 2 o'clock. His thoroughbred Taurus broke down at Iglau at midnight and was supposed to be out of the race. A veterinary surgeon, however, brought it about in fairly good condition and the prince pushed ahead.

Lieut. Julius Czavossy de Czavoss et Bobla, on his six-year-old Darius, came in to the umpires' stand at 11:10 this morning. His horse was in good condition. He was lifted from his horse by a crowd of guard officers. No German officer has yet reached Vienna.

COUNTY SEAT WAR.

Culbertson, Nebraska, in a State of Siege and Surrounded by Sentinels.

Culbertson, Neb., Oct. 4.—Culbertson is virtually in a state of siege. Every citizen in the city is armed with whatever weapon he can find and the town is encircled by sentinels. No one can enter without a challenge from the guards. When the Trenton people appeared yesterday it was to the number of 100. They appeared to approach the town with a view of carrying off the records with a rush. They were not armed and a shot from the sheriff's rifle sent them on the run for Trenton.

There is no communication between the two places, but it is known that the Trenton people are armed and excited. Troops are expected here hourly. If they do not arrive soon another fight may occur.

PEOPLE'S PARTY INDORSED.

Boise City, Idaho, Oct. 4.—The Idaho democratic committee yesterday withdrew its electoral ticket and indorsed the electors of the People's party ticket. This is understood to be in accordance with a general plan to be pursued in other western states under the advice of the national committee.

It is understood the populists will cut their own candidate for secretary of state and vote for the democratic. It is reported that the democrats will cut their candidates for governor and congressman and support the populist nominees.

LANTERN WORKS BURNED.

Bellaire, O., Oct. 4.—At 2 o'clock this morning the lantern globe works of this city was destroyed by fire. The fire started in the box shop and soon spread to the packing room, where the fire department were powerless to stop the flames. This factory was the pioneer of the Ohio valley in the glass business and the only factory making lantern globes in the valley. The loss will be $40,000 and the insurance $20,000.

TAKING PRECAUTIONS.

Vienna, Oct. 4.—The board of health in Budapesth have decided to flush the sewers and to build four temporary cholera hospitals. They resolved that the epidemic was not threatening enough to justify the closing of the schools.

DECLARED UNSATISFACTORY.

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—The decision of the California athletic club in the fight between Smith of Los Angeles and Siddons of New York for a purse of $2,000 awards each man $800 and declares the contest an unsatisfactory affair.

SENATOR MILLS RECOVERED.

Corsicana, Tex., Oct. 4.—Senator Mills has almost entirely recovered from his recent indisposition and expects to leave here the latter part of this week to fill his Illinois appointments in Forman's district.

EGAN HOME.

New York, Oct. 4.—The Hon. Patrick Egan, United States minister to Chile, arrived to-day from Colon on the steamer Newport.

ANTI-GAMBLING CRUSADE

To Be Made by a Reformed Gambler in a Private Car.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 4.—The Anti-Gambling association has bought the handsome private car Evelyn, which is being refitted at a cost of $7,000 in this city. The car has been renamed "Roanoke." After the town in Randolph county, Missouri, in which John P. Quinn, the reformed gambler, who is touring the country under the auspices of the association, was born. The car will have upon inside the inscription, "John Phillips Quinn's Anti-Gambling Crusade," and will be taken to New York and formally dedicated in the Grand Central depot.

WHERE IS JAMES?

Putnam County Farmer Mysteriously Disappears.

He Was Seen in Toledo the Last Time After Leaving Home—Financial Trouble the Attributed Cause.

The village of Westerman, Putnam county, on the Clover Leaf railroad, near Continental, is considerably stirred up over the mysterious disappearance of Milford James, an old citizen of the place and, until recent developments, reported to be one of the wealthiest men of the county.

He is 64 years of age and lived a greater part of his life at Westerman. During this time he amassed quite a snug fortune. He owned a saw mill, the mill, a general merchandise store, 500 acres of land near the town, under cultivation, improved and well stocked and equipped.

Recent events, however, give evidence of a serious reverse in his good fortune, which has resulted in a disastrous financial wreck.

On last Thursday Mr. James was in Toledo and transacted business with Attorney D. E. Thomas relative to several claims which the latter held against him.

Up to yesterday he had not returned home, and no knowledge of his whereabouts had been obtained. His prolonged absence from home caused considerable comment, and on Saturday, creditors began to take steps to protect themselves, and the sheriff of Putnam county had more business than he could attend to. The Union Central Life Insurance company held a $7,000 mortgage on the farm, which they proceeded to foreclose. On the day that James came to Toledo, he transferred all of his personal property to his son-in-law, John Heiser, for $7,000, taking a chattel mortgage as security.

The Toledo creditors represented by Mr. Thomas are Smith, Simmons & Peabody, Berdan & Co., E. C. Shaw, Davis Bros., and L. S. Baumgardner & Co., the claims amounting to $1,500.

A BRUTAL PUG.

Charley Mitchell Makes a Vicious Assault on An Old Man.

London, Oct. 4.—Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, was in the prisoner's dock of the Bow street police court this morning, to answer a charge of assault. At midnight Mitchell had a row with an old man named Salvage in a street off the Strand. Both men had been drinking. How the trouble started has not been ascertained, but after a few words Mitchell suddenly struck the old man a savage blow on the ear.

The blow laid open the old man's scalp and he fell stunned to the ground. A crowd gathered shouting "shame, shame," etc. A policeman arrested Mitchell and locked him up.

Salvage's wound bled profusely. He lost about a pint of blood before he could be got to the hospital. It is feared his skull is fractured. Mitchell was remanded to await the result of closer inquiries as to the old man's condition.

BIG JAIL DELIVERY.

REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

The Men Who Buy and Sell Land.

Holding a Big Meeting at Buffalo—Toledo is Represented.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 4.—There was very little room to spare in Music hall at noon to-day when the second congress of the National Real Estate association was called to order by Hon. Benj. F. Weil of Milwaukee. The call of the roll developed the fact that delegates were present from 22 states, among them being John H. Sloss, Huntsville, Ala.; L. E. Hinton, Little Rock, Ark.; Charles D. Nicholl, New Haven, Conn.; R. E. Montgomery, Denver, Colo.; Will. E. Fisher, San Francisco, Cal.; T. M. Weir, Tampa, Fla.; Samuel W. Goode, Atlanta, Ga.; Malcolm McNeill, Chicago, Ill.; J. A. Webb, Des Moines, Ia.; S. S. Meddis, Louisville, Ky.; D. M. Moore, Garnett, Ks.; Homer Warren, Detroit, Mich.; C. B. Lovett, Duluth, Minn.; E. P. Ervine, Butte, Mont.; P. H. Pierce, St. Louis, Mo.; R. H. Potter, Buffalo, N. Y.; A. C. Horton, Cincinnati, O.; J. Craddock Simpson, Montreal, P. Q.; James B. Turnley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; C. A. Edwards, Velasco, Tex.; C. E. Wantland, Salt Lake City, Utah; Wm. J. Morhab, Milwaukee, Wis.; James Chamberlin, Baltimore, Md.; J. M. Williams, Nashville, Tenn.; J. L. Lombard, Chicago, Ill.; H. S. Hill, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. C. Hendricks, Atlanta, Ga.; H. H. Cushing, Toledo, O.; J. T. Frazier, Louisville, Ky.; A. D. Agne, Milwaukee, Wis.; E. C. Holliday, Duluth, Minn.; O. W. Crawford, Velasco, Tex.

Hon. Moses P. Handy, chief of the department of promotion and publicity of the world's fair, is also present on behalf of that enterprise, temporary fair headquarters having been established here.

At the opening session an address of welcome was delivered by President Weil and representatives of the local real estate dealers, the latter stating that several thousand dollars had been subscribed for the entertainment of the visitors. President Weil in his opening address outlined the objects of the organization as follows: To establish and maintain a central body of reference and union for its members; to acquire, preserve and disseminate valuable information appertaining to real estate in the United States; to encourage, establish and maintain uniform business principles and usages in real estate transactions; to inspire and create closer fraternal relations between owners, agents and purchasers of realty; to encourage the formation of associations and exchanges in the various states and cities of the United States; to influence and direct, and make uniform as far as possible the laws affecting real property in the various states; to discourage wild speculation and fictitious "booms;" to encourage and direct as far as possible the investment of money in those sections promising the greatest and most certain returns; to elevate and dignify the real estate business; to encourage and improve social intercourse among the members of the associations; to establish a high standard of ethics among real estate men and their "ratings" by commercial agencies. The congress will be in session for three days.

Gov. Flowers addressed the meeting as follows: "Of all lines of business yours would seem to be the safest, in one respect at least. There can be no overissue. In railroad and other corporate investments, the stock may be watered, in manufacturing there is the menace of possible over-production; but in real estate there is just so much, no more, no less. In Arizona, Montana, Indian territory and so on it is measured only by miles. In Washington, Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas it comes by sections and quarter sections. In Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Georgia by the acre; in Denver, Kansas City, and Atlanta by city lots; in Chicago by the foot and in New York by the inch. But in every case it is a certain quantity, and if you are careful not to get caught by buying property that lies below the water mark you can see it all as often as you please."

The governor said that while it was necessary for the real estate dealer to possess all the abilities essential to success in business, he must have the faculty of farsightedness developed to the fullest degree. Continuing, he said: "Was it any wonder that Chicago became the great metropolis of the west when the development of the prairies must bring the cereals to the lakes on their way to a market? Was it any wonder that St. Louis and Kansas City were built upon the banks of these great highways of commerce—the Mississippi and Missouri? Was it any wonder that Duluth, with its 3,000 miles of fertile lands behind it and their products seeking an eastern market made such astonishing strides to its place among the great cities?

"After the discovery of coal, limestone and iron, was it a wonder that Birmingham was builded in a day? What wonder that in this, the third city of population in our state, situated at the foot of the greatest chain of deep water inland navigation in the world on the lakes, which furnish the cheapest freight route from all the west, with the Erie canal and numerous railroads to transport it to the ocean. The long visioned real estate dealers invited you from all over the union to this great lake city to see for yourselves its many and peculiar advantages."

The governor concluded as follows: "It is well for business men, not only in real estate, but in other vocations to organize for their own advancement and to meet together to learn better methods. But men who are so alert and so energetic in their business pursuits are the ones whose influence is needed and should be constantly exerted in the affairs of government. Time devoted to such efforts will be well spent and the reward will come in the knowledge that the continued performance of such duty by patriotic business men will insure the perpetuity of our beneficent system for all time and continue the American people as an example and leader forever among the nations of the earth."

CORBETT SURPRISED.

New York, Oct. 4.—A reporter of the United Press called on the champion pugilist, Corbett, with regard to the dispatch from Boston in which Sullivan is quoted as saying that he was desirous of having another go with Corbett. Corbett said: "I am surprised to hear that Sullivan wants to fight me again. I had an idea that he had retired from boxing. If he is in earnest, as a matter of course, I will give such challenge from his precedence over all others."

BABY WISDOM.

Four-year-old Mabelle, my sweet little niece,
Gaily one morning beside me was walking.
Sparkling with prattle of childish caprice,
Ever in the lore of wise babyland talking.

"Bigger than I, oh, much bigger are you,"
Viewing us, each, with her bright birdlike glances.
"You're old and big, but I small for I'm new,"
Tinged thus with wisdom, she fashioned her fancies.

"I am the new woman, you are the old,
We are the old and the new." Can the sages
Find words more trite, though in baby speech told?
While we, the types of antipodel ages.

Our walk pursued; the kaleidoscope years,
Through memory's optics, brought much to my vision;
Swift fleeing glimpses of sunshine or tears,
Valleys of sorrow or heights of elysian.

I, o'er the vista of long years between,
My own life's morn, and this mite of a maiden,
Clasped her wee hand, while beside me serene
Paced she, or frolicked, with ne'er a care laden.

O, small new women! So new to the world!
New to its phases that make life a burden,
It's themes so new, scarce a fold yet unfurled,
Nor palest star, to light victory's guerdon!

Who is so wise, as to guide your swift feet
Past sin's enticements and snares so alluring?
Up to the heights, whose pure life bread to eat
Raises the spirit to heav'n's realms enduring?

ABSOLUTELY PURE

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Remarkable Argument.

A man signing himself "D'Auby," tells a republican organ some "good reasons" whey he is not a democrat. Here are six of them:

First—Because the man that shot Lincoln was a democrat.

Second—Because the confederate constitution was writ en by democrats.

Third—Because all free traders are democrats.

Fourth—Because federal elections must be subject to federal laws.

Fifth—Because a strong central government is essential to a more perfect union.

Sixth—Because democracy always fears the result of honest elections.

Then, for the same reason, I as a republican, should vote the democratic ticket, because a republican killed Garfield. What an intelligent animal Mr. D'Auby must be!

D'Auby says that he is not a democrat because all democrats are free traders. How about Mr. McClure, of Philadelphia, and a few millions other republicans?

Mr. D'Auby says he believes in a "strong central government." That's the stuff; that has the true republican ring.

Mr. D'Auby says "the democracy fears the result of honest elections." Are not republicans similarly affected? They fairly howled and raved against the present Ohio ballot law, until they found they were safe; and now they are trying to set aside the same ballot laws in Indiana. Does it not seem as if the republicans were a little afraid of an honest ballot?

There are several other reasons Mr. D'Auby states why he is not a democrat, which of course are very specific. Mr. D'Auby ought to state, incidentally, how he came so near being an imbecile.

PINKHAM'S PROVERBIAL PHILOSOPHY...

A Defective Link Weakens a Strong Chain.

The female organization is a series of links, so to speak. Note the nervous irritability of one, the restlessness of another, the inability to sleep, and perhaps secret suffering. It means that a link of a chain is weakened. Those ailments are promptly overcome by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it conquers all those weaknesses and ailments so prevalent among our women.

DEAR FRIEND OF WOMEN.—I have derived so great benefit from the use of your Vegetable Compound that I recommend it in the strongest terms. I consider it superior to any other preparation for Fem[illegible] Complaints.—Mrs. E. A. BECK, 18 Willo[illegible] Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Druggists sell it as a standard article, or sent by mail. [illegible] of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00. An illustrated book, entitled "Guide to Health and [illegible]ette," by Lydia E. A MODERN MARVEL.

The problem of domestic help
My wife and I had sought
For fifteen years to solve, yet all
Our search had come to naught.
We'd sampled German, Celt and Pole,
Welsh, African and Swede,
In short, all sorts and kinds, but found
No one to fit our need.

At last, when we were in despair,
An accidental came,
She had no "recommend," but proved
A wonder all the same,
At cooking, washing, everything
She such rare skill displayed
That ere a year my wife declared
She'd found a perfect maid.

"A perfect servant girl," she said
To Mrs. Clark next door.
The news spread through the town
And soon the state and nation o'er,
Alas! how brief our joy! for scarce
Had flown another week
When came a dime museum man
And "scooped" her as a freak.
—Buffalo Courier.

FAKIR'S MUSEUM.

"Well, ye see how 'tis yerself, Nell, if we don't make a stake in dis yer town, why we'll go up de flume, dat's all. I knows ye'r hungry, an' I ain't had a square meal myself fer two days, but I'll go out and work a feller in de stand fer a can of beer, and dat'll help out. We didn't make expenses in dat last jay town, but dey say dis is a great place fer grafters, and I've got a lay dat I think will put us on velvet before the week's out, see. Don't worry, but brace up like a good little girl. We'se been in lot's worse holes than dis an' come out all right."

Such was the speech of Tom, the showman and manager of "Fakir's Great Museum," which had just pitched its dingy tent on the grounds of a small Michigan fair.

The show was the average traveling side show, designed to catch the dimes of the unsophisticated. It was a sort of stock concern, and nearly all of the dozen people with it had a financial interest.

while they also represented the freaks and attractions.

As Tom said, they had played to very unsuccessful business at a neighboring fair, and as their surplus was only what they made at each exhibition, they had experienced some difficulty in getting to the place where they were now located. Everybody concerned was anxious, for if this week did not prove better than the last one, they would be obliged to abandon the small outfit to their creditors and each one make his way as best he could.

The girl whom Tom addressed as Nell, was the "Circassian Beauty" when her wig was on, but now she was a demure and quiet young woman of ordinary appearance except that her rather pretty face was anxious and pinched with want and showed the effects of the life she led.

Tom and Nellie had never been married, but they had traveled together for several years now, sharing each other's fortune for good or bad, and were considered man and wife by other members of the troupe.

Tom had been a most devoted lover, and Nellie was happy, but of late there had been hard times and plenty of troubles had arisen to worry the girl, besides the fair-haired baby boy that was just beginning to call her "mamma."

Tom had been drinking a good deal of late and Nell had also noticed that he paid attentions to Nanon, the snake charmer, which she thought she should receive herself.

Nanon was a big woman, with black hair, and eyes that glistened much like those of her pets. Nell had always been somewhat afraid of her.

Then there was "Gubal," the strong man, known among his associates as "Dago Pete," who had told Nell that he loved her, and wanted her to leave the show with him. She had promptly refused him, but she did not tell Tom, and Pete continued to watch her with fierce, longing eyes.

These same eyes also glowered at Tom in a vicious way that would probably have caused trouble had the latter gentleman ever noticed it.

The fair opened on a bright, clear day, crowds of people flocked to the grounds, which were crowded with all sorts of attractions to amuse them, and among these "Fakir's Museum of Wonders" came in for its full share of attention.

The immense, flaming banners on the outside, depicted in gaudy colors all sorts of possible and impossible wonders and freaks, which were a continual source of amazement to the country people who visited the fair, and a constant delight to the small boy.

A big bass drum and a squaky fife made plenty of noise to attract those who had not noticed the pictures, and at intervals Tom mounted an old box and told the gaping crowd of the marvelous combination, aggregation and conglomeration of wonders to be seen under the canvas.

There was the tattooed man; Vanoni, the Circassian beauty; Hoki-Poki, the terrible wild man from Borneo; Gubal, the Giant, who could break paving stones with his fist; Nanon, the lovely snake charmer; Rhoda, the living half lady; the usual Punch and Judy; a troupe of trained animals and many more things, some of which they pretended to show, and others which they never had, though Tom gave glowing descriptions of them and took in the dimes that were handed to him by hundreds of fists.

Tom's "lecture" was neither new nor original, but it "caught" the simple country people, and the museum reaped the benefit.

This continued for a week and everybody was busy. Under the influence of regular meals they could look happy and forget all cares.

The fair closed on Saturday night and Tom, showing a big roll of bills, promised to divide in the morning.

The members of the troupe celebrated their success with a feast and everybody was happy.

The morrow came, but Tom and his bank notes did not. Nanon, the snake charmer, was also missing.

As the hours went by and neither of them could be found, there was wailing and gnashing of teeth and many vows of vengeance.

This did no good, however, and each one set about saving themselves, those who had enough money for railroad fare were fortunate indeed.

* * * * * * *

The next morning a baby boy was found on a door step, and pinned to its little packet was this note:

"Will sum kind peple plese take care
Of this baby its muther is ded."

Dago Pete did not know of this, but was searching for Nell alone, for he knew that she now had no friends but him. His search was unrewarded, however, until almost night, when, wandering along the river, he found a hat that he knew had belonged to Nell.

"Well might Tom have feared, had he seen the "giant" then, for all of his fierce Sicilian blood was roused, and over that wet and torn hat he swore an undying vendetta.

This is the simple tale of some simple people, to whom the world at large give but little thought. Fakir's Museum of Wonders was no more, and the people who had composed it were scattered over the country in various directions. Most of them forgot Nell and her baby. But one did not, and nearly a year after, in a far away city, a man answering Tom's description was found dead with a stiletto in his back. BLACQUE WILSON.

A HAUNCH OF KOODOO.

Some of the Things an African Sportsman Lives On.

South Africa, says the Saturday Review, may sometimes be nearly as hot as India, but there the hunter, though a sybarite by temperament, must be a Spartan by training and almost necessarily he must be in tip-top condition. He does his severe exercise in the saddle or on his own shoe leather; he cuts his communications with the camping place for the day, and knows nothing of soda water or sandwiches.

The air may be hot and the work has has been hard, but he seeks the wagons at sundwon, empty and ravening. If the locks of his liquor case have not been tampered with, if he has been in fair sporting luck, and if he be happy in a tolerably thoughtful Hottentot cook, all is well. The supper is ready to be served in response to a warning shot from his rifle, and he sits down to his haunch of koodoo or his sirloin of eland, or to his fricasseed slice of elephant trunk with sand grouse to follow.

Harris and Gordon Cumming dwell rather on the killing of the game than on the eating it. Yet they sometimes record wonderful performances after prolonged fasts, and, like Livingstone or Moffat and other illustrious missionaries, they owe to the feeding of inexpressible bleu etre which stole over them when nature had been soothed and satisfied with some plentiful but simple meal. The worst was that sometimes when the sport had been exceptionally gratifying, there would be what were comparatively banyan days.

Eland is as good as beef, and more is the pity, since the ox-like antelope is disappearing. But the noble camelopard, though he fetched high prices on the Boulevard Haussmann during the siege of Paris, loses caste when he is stripped of his giant's robe: the beautiful water buck tastes fishy, like most amphibious or water-haunting beasts, and the still rarer roan antelope has worse faults still.

THE ITALIAN STONE EATER.

In writing of Francis Battalia, the Italian Lithophagous, or stone eater, Dr. Bulwer, in his "Artificial Changeling," has this to say: "This queer creature was born with two small pebbles in his hands, one in each. He refused ordinary nourishment, would not suckle, only when small stones were given him with the nursing bottle."

After Battalia grew to manhood he was exhibited in all the principal cities of Europe. Dr. Bulwer had a chance to professionally examine the "queer creature" after "it" had been kept on a stone diet for about 30 years. He thus describes Battalia's manner of feeding: "He would put three of four stones in a spoon, swallow them down and then drink a glass of beer after them. He devoured a half peck of these stones every day, and when he shakes his body they clink in his stomach. In appearance he is a black, swarthy-looking fellow, and having been a soldier, made good use of the food allowed him by selling it and subsisting on dirt and pebbles."

The methods of lumbering have so greatly changed in Maine in recent years that there is scarcely an idle interval now between the driving time when logs are floated down to the saw-mills, at the end of the season, and the chopping time, at beginning of the next season. Men now go into the woods in August, and this year crews of choppers had left Bangor for the camps before the log drives arrived at the old town.

The Jewish scholar, M. Halevy, has compiled from the cuneiform tablets discovered at El Amura an account of an Egyptian governor of Jerusalem under Amenophis IV., 1,500 years before the Christian era. At that time Palestine was in a very disturbed state, overrun by the Babylonian hordes and misgoverned by the local satraps. At this early period Jerusalem was a populous city, and contained a temple consecrated to the god, Adar. The bureau of the royal archives was under the direction of a woman.

One of the Melbourne newspapers says that a while ago a woman there advertised for two housemaids. The same day two stylishly dressed young women were shown into her drawing-room, and were treated as callers until they remarked that they had come in answer to the advertisement. They explained that their father had recently lost his property, and consequently they found it necessary to take situations. When asked if they could wait at table, they replied: "Well, yes, we can wait, but we would rather not, as we might meet a lot of friends."

THE ALDERMEN

Have a Hard Time to Get Enough Members.

To Do Business—The Electric Light Tax Ordinance Goes Through —Bower's Trial Postponed.

Last night's aldermanic meeting was remarkable for its dullness and uncertainty. It was after 8 o'clock before enough members of the board were present to even pass resolutions and act upon the new legislation proposed. Only six aldermen were present up to a late hour. Messrs. Hall and Hodge were out of town, and Mr. Peiter, the other absent member, was at large some where in the city.

After the resolutions had been approved City Solicitor Read explained that unless the ordinance levying a tax for street lighting purposes was passed this week it could not be placed on the tax duplicate in time to take effect this year. Sergeant-at-Arms Hassenzahl was therefore sent out on a reconnoitering tour for the purpose of corralling the absent Peiter. After a thorough search Peiter was found at the G. M. C. A. headquarters and brought into court.

The presence of the Eighth ward alderman constituted an ordinance passing quorum and the routine business was then rushed through in short order, including the ordinance referred to by the city solicitor, which levies a tax of 8.263 for lighting purposes.

Very little new legislation was proposed. Resolutions were adopted instructing the city civil engineer to give permission to C. W. Taylor to drain a lot on Sixth street; instructing the street commissioner to clean a catch basin at the corner of Cherry and Michigan streets, and to provide for the improvement of Franklin avenue, between Columbia and Batavia streets, by electric lighting.

The following resolutions from the city civil engineer were approved: To improve Spielbusch avenue by paving; to confirm contracts for sewers in Wabash, South, Oak and Logan streets and alley back of Oswald street; grading McDonald street; accepting improvements on St. Clair street alley; Washington street, from Nineteenth to Twentieth streets; grading Front street; paving Williams street; for sewers in Walnut and Sixteenth streets; turnpiking Oak and Bay streets and grading Union street.

The resolution to improve Sixteenth street was referred back to the committee, and the resolutions for artesian wells at the corner of Monroe street and Lawrence avenue, at the corner of Oak and Second streets, and at the corner of Norton street and Stickney avenue laid on the table because the city auditor would not certify that there was sufficient unappropriated money in the treasury to pay for the same.

With the exceptions noted above, all the business from the board of councilmen and the committees was approved.

Bower's Trial Postponed.

On motion of Mr. Leroux, the trial of Street Commissioner Bower was postponed for two weeks on the ground that several members of the two boards would be absent this week in New York city in connection with the asphalt investigation.

EDUCATORS OBJECT

To the Curtailment of the Educational Exhibit

At the World's Fair—Meeting Held at Chicago Attended by Prominent Men of Learning.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—That the educational leaders of the country are up in arms against the authorities of the exposition owing to the curtailment of the space allotted to the educational exhibit was made manifest this afternoon when the large audience chamber of the board of education was crowded with superintendents of public school instruction, presidents of higher institutions of learning and others interested in education for the purpose of entering a protest against the action of the exposition authorities.

Prominent among those present were Superintendent of Public Instruction Lane, of Chicago; Dr. W. N. Hailman, of Indiana; Wells, of Wisconsin; Finch, of Michigan; Wm. A. Bell, of Indiana; Harry Sabin, of Iowa, and Dr. James H. Smith, of Purdue university, Indiana.

Addresses were made declaring that the space allotted to the department of liberal arts had been unfairly reduced; that every effort to seek relief on the part of educators had been unsuccessful, and that in the interest of 15,000,000 school children justice should be done. Numerous telegrams from eductors at distant points expressing approval of the objects of the meeting were received and read. The conference will probably continue until a late hour.

Mr. W. D. Wentz, of Geneva, N. Y., was cured of the severest form of dyspepsia by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Full particulars sent if you write C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient action.

SWELL WEDDING.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 4.—One of the most brilliant weddings which Newport has seen for many years, with the possible exception of the Hargous-Elliott nuptials a year ago, was solemnized in Old Trinity church to-day. The principals were Miss Georgette Sherman and Mr. Harold Brown, both members of families within the charmed circle of the four hundred.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with draperies and ruffings of the rarest point lace, the lace veil being caught with a tiara of pearls and diamonds. After the ceremony at Trinity church a wedding breakfast was served on the lawn of the Sherman cottage.

ON THE BOOM.

Tiffin Oil and Gas Field Making a Great Showing.

Tiffin, Oct. 4.—(Special)—The status of the Tiffin oil and gas field is demonstrated by the recent completion of two wells which may be accepted as typical examples. The Wenner-Stalter well is nearly 1,500 feet deep and stands level full of oil without pumping or torpedoing. The Sloman well, about 40 rods further up the creek, in the heart of the city, is 2,000,000 cubic feet a day gasser, with a rock pressure of 450 pounds to the square inch and is perfectly dry.

The construction of derricks has been going on steadily, but these developments will greatly accelerate the activity in this territory, and may break loose into a genuine boom worthy of the Wood county field and the palmy days of Findlay.

Pleasant to the taste and readily taken is Simmons Liver Regulator.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

New York, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Nellie F. Sharp, aged 26, wife of John Sharp, who is said to be a son of Jacob Sharp, of Broadway railroad fame, died a week ago at Woodside. She was buried at Evergreen cemetery on a death certificate which set forth rheumatism of the heart as the cause of death.

Mr. Bland, of Brooklyn, the girl's father, grew suspicious and had the body exhumed and examined.

The examination reveals that death was caused by peritonitis, probably the result of a criminal operation. It is claimed that the death certificate was forged and the police are after the perpetrators.

LORD TENNYSON'S CONDITION.

London, Oct. 4.—Advices from Haslemere are to the effect that Lord Tennyson, who rallied somewhat yesterday, is worse this morning. His condition is marked by an alarming degree of debility which seems to be increasing.

A WAGE REDUCTION.

London, Oct. 4.—The Ashton cotton masters have given notice of a 5 per cent reduction of wages to take effect November 7.

RIGHT ON DECK.

Two Tiffin Men Who Are Naval Officers and Are Now in Southern Waters.

Tiffin, Oct. 4.—(Special)—Among the naval officers with the United States war ships in the harbor of La Guayra, Venezuela, are Commander Edwin White and Ensign Albert L. Norton, both of Tiffin. Commander White, who is in command of the Concord and is conspicuous for his protection of American interests among the Vennezuelan revolutionists, is a brother of Elmer White, publisher of the Bee, and was appointed to the Naval academy by the Hon. Warren P. Noble, of this city, representative in congress during the civil war. Ensign Norton is the only son of Tiffin's distinguished townsman, the Hon. James A. Norton, and is attached to the flagship Chicago.

KETCHAM STOCK FARM

And Something of Its Owner, Mr. Ketcham.

A Young Man of Great Business Capacity—Not for Money, But Pleasure, Is He in It.

The Bowling Green Tribune has the following with reference to Mr. George H. Ketcham and his farm, which will be read with interest:

The Tribune desires to say a word for George Ketcham, of Toledo, proprietor of the Ketcham stock farm, one of the best in the United States. His farm has upon it one of the finest tracks and best of buildings, and his stables contain many famous flyers. But it is of the interest he takes in the Bowling Green fair that we desire to speak. Every fair time for several years he has set apart a week for Wood county and has brought his best horses here at a great expense and exhibited them to our people. Two years ago he had here his celebrated chestnut gelding pacer Charley Freil, with a record of 2:15 3-4, besides many others, and last year he had Lucy B., with a pacing record of 2:22 1-4, Biddie Donovan, trotter, record 2:27, which has since died, and other good horses and which were among the best attractions at the fair.

This year Mr. Ketcham has here Lucy B., above mentioned; Katie Earl, by Earl, trotter, three-year-old record 2:27; Nyanza, a bay mare three years old, by Robert McGregor, 2:17 1-2. Nyanza has a record of 2:26 1-4, made at Bryan this fall, and she made a trial at Cleveland in 2:19.

But the greatest attraction and beauty here was Baronsteine, 6149, sired by Baron Wilks, record 2:18, and first dam Seronette, by Steinway, 2:25 3-4. Baronsteine is six years old, with a trial record of 2:21 and is valued at $15,000.

He, of course, carried off the card in his class, as did the rest. Mr. Ketcham's head man is Tim Newmeman, an experienced trainer, who is reliable at all times.

Mr. Ketcham generally does his own driving for the pleasure it is to him and for his health. But Tim can do as well.

Among the best horses at Ketcham's farm is Charley Friel, still one of his favorites, and Navidad, a bay gelding 5-year-old by Whisp, a son of Electioneer. Navidad has a record of 2:22 and trial 2:15 and has already brought $10,000.

All of Mr. Ketcham's mares in his stable have low records, and among which are Morea, record 2:24, by Electioneer; Red Queen, 5-year-old, record 2:27, by Red Wilkes; also Zilla H., 5-year-old, 3-year-old record 2:28 1-2, by Socrates, a son of Geo. Wilkes; also Viola Clay, 8-year-old record 2:24, by Volunteer Clay, he by Volunteer; also Susie B., 8-year-old record 2:34, by Sam Patch. Mr. Ketcham also owns the dam of Nightingale, with a mark of 2:13 1-4, and she has won all the stakes she went for this year; also Miss Egbert, 7-year-old, record 2:29. He has also several other mares and a large stable of colts by the best horses in the country.

Mr. Ketcham's farm at no fancy price is worth nearly $100,000.

His horses are his great source of pleasure, but they are not without their profit.

The Ketcham farm comprises a tract of 1,000 acres. The soil is a sandy loam, very fertile and peculiarly adapted to stock-raising, being light and elastic. Old and tried campaigners have recovered form so rapidly after a short sojourn in its paddocks that their owners consider it a perfect equine sanitarium.

The farm is provided with 70 paddocks of three acres each. Pure running water from a never-failing artesian well and a commodious box stall 16 feet square is provided for each paddock.

The pastures are ample and so arranged as to furnish good grazing throughout the year.

The training and brood-mare barns are supplied with all modern improvements, and have been pronounced by visiting horsemen equal to any in the country.

AUGLAIZE COUNTY FAIR.

Wapakoneta, Oct. 4.—(Special)—The twenty-ninth annual fair of the Auglaize County Agricultural society began here to-day. The society has increased its premium list to almost twice as former size and every class is full and running over. A magnificent new art hall has been built and the stock accommodations have been quadrupled and still they are short of sheds. If the weather continues favorable there will be such enormous crowds out to the fair as have never before been seen in Wapakoneta. Quite a number of fast horses were shipped in to-day, and there will probably be some track records lowered this week.

A NEW CUTTER YACHT.

New York, Oct. 4—The yacht being built by Herreshoff Brothers is for Mr. Royal Phelps Carroll and not for Mr. Archibald Rogers as rumored. Mr. Carroll contemplates taking the cutter to England and will endeavor to regain for the New York Yacht club the Cape May and Brenton's Reef cups, won by the Genesta in 1885. He will also enter local regattas and hopes to make a good showing.

HORSES CREMATED.

New York, Oct. 4.—Early this morning fire broke out in the stables occupied by Christopher Ronan, a truckman, at 506 East Seventy-first street. It spread so rapidly that the adjoining stable, No. 508, occupied by Mr. Creeden, also too fire. Ronan lost 45 horses and Creeden 13. The total damage is about $12,000.

WHY LOSE AT POKER?

Marked Cards Sold Openly at Philadelphia.

A gray-uniformed postman who carries mail to the residents and business men along the lower end of Ridge avenue leaves a good many letters every day at a small barber shop near Thirteenth street, and every day a freckled-faced youth carries an armful of small packages to the postoffice and drops them in the out-of-town boxes.

The mail received is in answer to the following advertisement, inserted in newspapers of this and other cities, and the packages are sent in response to the letters:

"SPORTS! Why lose at poker? Try Berry's marked cards. They are the best.—Ridge avenue, Philadelphia."

The numerous replies bear witness to the class of newspaper readers named in the first word, and the Ridge avenue barber is making money faster with his marked cards than with his razor. That his customers are also getting rich is evidenced by the additional number of packs they send for after the first is used up, and the somewhat incidental fact that the general public made up in this instance of the acquaintances of his customers, are the only losers, does not keep the barber awake at night.

A Philadelphia Times reporter went into the Ridge avenue shop, which bears no outward sign of any other trade than that of the razor and brush, and bought a pack of the marked cards last week. Mr. Berry is a tall blond young man, and he has two assistants to help him in his tonsorial work. He has others to help him conduct the branch trade.

Without replying to the reporter's question Mr. Berry, who was shaving a week's growth of beard off the features of a customer, directed him by a nod to a back room. The reporter went back and entered a small apartment furnished as a dining room. On the big center table and on the mantel were numerous evidences of the character of the place.

There were packs of cards in and out of their pasteboard cases, letters opened and unopened, postage stamps and newspapers. A rather pretty young woman was lying on a lounge, but she did not move when the caller entered, so he took a seat at the table and waited for Mr. Berry.

The barber was only absent for a moment. He came in, handed the reporter a pack of cards, and said their price was $1 with the key, six packs with six keys for $5. The marks he pointed out as soon as a dollar was handed him. They consisted of the usual scratches and dots in the corner of the cards, but it is due to him to say that they were very skillfully placed in the hands of a poker player engaged in an ample limit game they would be calculated to do no end of injury—to all others engaged in the game. He frankly said that the cards gave the player "on the inside" a guarantee to win.

A little questioning brought out some rather interesting facts concerning the methods of his business and character of his customers. He said:

"My wife helps me mark the cards. I scratch them and she puts on the polish afterward. It takes us two hours of steady work to mark a pack, so you can see that to supply the trade takes a good deal of time. Besides this, advertising is expensive, and the cards themselves cost money. There isn't such a lot of profit in it as you'd think.

"Who do I sell to? Why, everybody. I never ask any questions. If I had to guess, for instance, what you wanted the cards for I should say that you were running a game somewhere in the city."

He looked at the reporter half curiously when this was denied.

"You don't eh? Well, I suppose you've got some friends who like to play. Sometimes men say they want to use the cards for parlor tricks, and some say they are sleight-of-hand performers. It's none of my business, either way."

Mr. Berry said he knew all about cards. He had handled them all his life, in a good many states. The only advice he gave to his customers was to practice for an hour or so before they began to play, so as to familiarize themselves with the marks. He dealt a few hands between himself and the reporter and, after handling the cards very rapidly, told just what was in his opponent's hand.

"It's a cinch," he said, wrapping up the deck which he had just sold. "After you wear out this pack come back again and get more. I'm here all the time."

"Don't you fear the law?" he was asked.

"Oh, no; I'm not doing anything wrong. Still I—I wouldn't talk much about this thing if I was you, for your sake as well as mine. It's best not to take risks."

As the reporter went out a natty colored man, with striped shirt, summer suit and yellow shoes, passed him and went into the back room, furtively smiling at a youth of his own color who was dusting off a customer.

HOW HE GOT HIS TITLE.

He Didn't Inherit or Win It, But It Passed Among the Reds

"I have had a good many scrimmages with Indians of various tribes, but the wildest and woolliest of the whole corps of colored breed are the Sioux," said Major Dan Allen, one of the original "pathfinders" of the trackless west. "Most Indians are born sneaks and cowards, who do their fighting from cover, but the Sioux fears neither God, man nor the devil, and would fight Napoleon's Old Guard in an open field. A bluff won't work on them worth a cent, and when they tackle you you can just make up your mind to do some killing or lose your scalp. I was out in the southwestern part of what is now South Dakota a few years ago with a hunting party, when we encountered a lot of bucks on the warpath. There were 20 of them, while my party only numbered half a dozen. The redskins had the old-fashioned muzzle-loaders, while we were armed with Winchesters. There wasn't a rock or tree for miles, and we had just to stand up to the rack and take our fodder.

"One of the party was a mining engineer who had been prospecting for pay rock and had with him several pounds of dynamite and an electric battery. He was a Yankee, one of those quick-witted people that would find a way to get out of perdition though all Milton's terrors guarded the exit. He concealed the explosives in the grass, attached his wire, and we retreated slowly about 400 yards and stopped. The redskins didn't waste any time manoeuvring; they came and saw and expected to conquer in short order. On they came straight as the crow flies, and we lay down in the grass with rifles cocked. I tell you it was an interesting moment for us. If the battery failed to do its duty we were gone to a man. But it didn't. The 'blue belle' had dropped his hat near his Vesuvius, so that he could tell just when to touch the button. As the foremost horse reached the hat he turned on the current. There was an explosion that made the very ground reel, and the air for forty rods was full of horseflesh and fragments of noble red men, saddles and rifles, blankets and buckskin. 'Now's our time, boys,' I called, and we ran forward and began pumping the lead into the terrified savages as fast as we could pull the trigger. The remnant of the party took flight, and I am known among the Sioux to this day as the thunder-maker. The title does not belong to me, but it is mighty good capital out in their country."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A FIGHT WITH PIRATES.

Three Chinese Junks Attack an American Vessel on the Coast of Canton.

"I once had an adventure with pirates on the coast of Canton," said Capt. Ben Archie, a retired shipowner, to the writer. "I was outward bound from Boston in the Sarah Lee, and was carrying an assorted cargo of considerable value. I lost two men on the trip; five were sick, and the six left were scarce sufficient to work the ship, much less to fight for her. We were working along slowly one day against a light head wind, when three junks well loaded with villainous-looking free-booters bore down upon us. Their appearance did not worry us much, as we had two brass six-pounders aboard, and I had loaded them myself. Besides, the men had side arms and I had a double-barrelled ducking gun loaded with buckshot.

"I waited until the foremost junk was within four hundred yards, when I trained the bow gun upon its crowded decks and applied the match. To my surprise it would not fire. I run the priming iron down into the vent and found that the powder was soaking wet. I hurried to the other gun and found it in the same condition.

"We had shipped a coolie cook a few days before, and he had spiked my battery with a cup of water. I caught him just as he was about to leap overboard for a swim to the junks, placed him at the wheel and ordered him to remain there under pain of death. AMUSEMENTS.

Excellent Performance by Madame Janauschek at Wheeler's.

Children's Week at Wonderland—Florence Bindley at the People's Theater.

Madame Janauschek and her company presented Macbeth at Wheeler's last evening and the performance was witnessed by a fair sized audience. Janauschek has been too long before the public to need any comment. She excells in the character of Lady Macbeth and her rendition of the part last night was as near perfect as can be. She was well supported by Edmund K. Collier as Macbeth, John Fay Palmer as Macduff, and David Hanchett as Banquo. The others in the cast were all above the average and make a well balanced company. It is safe to say that the members of the audience considered themselves well repaid for the evening.

Florence Bindley.

A good Monday night house greeted Florence Bindley and company in the "Pay Train," at the People's theater last evening and the house will undoubtedly be large all week. Clever little Miss Bindley is a favorite in Toledo and she seems to improve every year. Her company this year is especially good and contains a number of fine specialty people, who enliven the course of the play with their songs and dances. Miss Bindley's musical act also made a great hit.

The mechanical and spectacular effects are good, that of the pay train and the boiler explosion being especially realistic.

Wonderland.

This will be a great week for the youngsters who visit Wonderland, for the attractions are those that will especially please the children. In the theater the Zanfretta family of pantomime artists give an entertainment that is full of fun and surprises. Little Aimee is really the star of the company, though not billed as such, but she is an exceedingly fine dancer in several different lines and has a very pleasing voice for a child.

In curio hall will be found a comical pair called Me and Him, one is a short fat man and the other a very tall slim man and they do an amusing burlesque boxing act. Gyoxana has a troupe of wonderfully well trained cockatoos and Signor Cordano gets delightful music out of a great variety of instruments. Then there is Prof. Kriger, the clever magician, who was so popular last week. He will be here all of this week and at each performance he introduces new and bewildering tricks and illusions, while his Punch and Judy always creates a laugh.

BAD GANG WIPED OUT.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 4.—Charley David, another notorious member of the Cooley gang, was captured yesterday. This last capture practically wipes out the gang of robbers and ruffians.

A long list of murders and other charges has been filed against him and he is likely to go to jail for a long term.

Important.—Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain, is only 25 cents.

HE KNEW WHEN TO QUIT.

"Yes, I was one of California's '49ers,' said Capt. George Sorsman, who long ago "made his pile" and is at present taking his ease at the Southern. "Those were wild days such as this country will not see again. Placer mining has given place to the quartz mill; the poetry and excitement of gold gathering has departed, and it is now as commonplace as digging coal or selling salt codfish. Men who were once scurrying over the mountains with a long rifle, grub-stake, pick and pan, liable to become rich in a day, are now working in stamp mills at $15 a week. I struck Frisco without a red cent, and had to accept a situation as chambermaid in a 5-cent saloon to keep from going hungry to bed in the open air. For this homely service I was paid $4 a day, and soon saved enough to provide myself with a miner's outfit. I was one of the few lucky ones. My partner and I struck a small creek whose sands were rich with gold, and in less than a month we had washed out a snug little fortune in dust. I went back to Frisco, bought out my old employer, and he tried his luck with pick and pan. It failed to pan out well; he tried the green cloth, and in less than three months was acting as hostler in the stable he once had owned. It was a grand transformation scene all around. Men who were beggars in the morning were rich men at night and beggars again before breakfast. It was the paradise of gamblers. One pocket-miner came down out of the mountains with $20,000 worth of the precious metal tied up in buckskin bags, lost it all in one night, got trusted for a 'grub-stake,' and in three months was back again with a new stake and broke every faro bank in the city. Unlike most others he knew when to quit. He planted his ducats in Frisco dirt and became one of the wealthiest men on the coast."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Commercial travelers invariably provide themselves with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The late Admiral Jurien de la Graviere had a trio of lovely daughters who were known 25 years ago as the "Three Graces." The eldest, now a widow with several children, has a figure like that of Mme. Recamier in David's portrait—a figure that was symmetry itself—while her manner was very sweet and unaffected.

A special train will be run to Wauseon for the bicycle races on Friday next, enabling the wheelmen of the city and their friends to return to the city for the evening.

Round trip, $1.70.

Vandalia, Ill., Oct. 4.—A stranger went to the residence of E. B. Stokes, one of the largest land owners of Fayette county, Saturday and induced him to drive to Vandalia to see about a land deal.

Darkness overtook them, and when about one mile this side of Ramsey a confederate of the man with Mr. Stokes came upon the scene and the two men forcibly took Stokes' money, throwing him out of the buggy, made their escape.

DEATH TO PRISON

Treasurer Dann Tries to End His Days.

Sensational Turn in the Buffalo Bank Affair.

All of the Cases Have Been Postponed.

The Convicted Official Attempts Suicide.

Believed That He Is Now at Death's Door From the Effects of a Dose of Poison.

Buffalo, Oct. 4.—Edward S. Dann, the bank wrecker, is lying at death's door at his home on Delaware avenue as the result of an attempt at suicide Saturday evening.

Dr. Hopkins and Dr. Harrington, who are attending him, have grave doubts as to his recovery. He is unconscious, and has been so for over 24 hours now. What method he chose for his attempt is not known. The greatest mystery surrounds the case and Dann's relatives and attendants combat every effort to secure any information whatever.

It is said that Dann took a large quantity of morphine, and that all efforts to resuscitate him have so far proven unavailing.

This is Dann's second attempt at suicide. It will be remembered that the night of his arrest he took 20 morphine pills, but the dose was so large it made him sick and he recovered in a few hours. The trial of Dann, ex-secretary and treasurer of the National Savings bank, on 16 indictments for felony, was to have begun this morning, or to have been avoided by a plea of guilty.

At 10:15 District Attorney Quinby said: "I desire to move the case of the people against Mr. Dann, which is set down for this morning."

"If the court please," said Mr. Hoyt, Dann's counsel. "I shall be obliged to ask that the case go over for a week. I have here the certificate of two reputable physicians to the effect that Mr. Dann is ill and unable to leave his bed."

He then submitted the certificate of Drs. Harrington and Hopkins to the effect that his client is in a critical condition.

No objection was made by the district attorney and Judge Titus postponed the case for one week. The cases of Dann's accomplices, Armstrong and McCreedie, were then called.

"I next desire to move the case of the people against Armstrong," said Mr. Quinby.

Attorney Keisselberg for Armstrong objected to this on the ground that the presence of a witness of Mr. Dann might be an imperative necessity for his client's defense and he desired the case similarly put over until Mr. Dann's recovery. The request was granted.

The case of McCredie was next moved and his attorney, Tracy C. Becker, also made application for adjournment, presenting certificates from physicians that McCredie is suffering from chronic alcoholism which has so impaired his mental faculties as to prevent his being able to make defense in a legal proceeding.

Counsel desired a postponement for an indefinite period until McCredie could improve and asked that the case be put over the term.

The district attorney and Judge Titus postponed the case for one week.

Dann's attempt at suicide has created a great sensation. His physicians are reticent and non-committal with regard to the cause of his illness and his counsel hints at apoplexy, but from all that can be learned there appears to be no doubt that Dann attempted to take his life in preference to an almost certain imprisonment for what would be to a man of his age a lifetime.

LOOKOUT FOR SCHEMERS AND TRICKSTERS.

There are clothing quacks as well as medical quacks, dishonest dealers as well as dishonest lawyers, look out for them. When you see an announcement in print to sell clothing at less than cost, or less than half price and all that sort of thing, look out. In 99 cases out of 100 its a fraud. Honest clothiers do not advertise for people to come and buy at figures that make every sale a loss, especially at this season of the year, when trade is just opening. This kind of advertising is only practiced by the Fagins and Shylocks of the clothing business, who buy up a lot of cheap, miserable, shoddy stuff, that is made up amid the filth and squalor of the poverty stricken tenement districts by pitiable specimens of suffering humanity, whose very touch engenders disease, perhaps death. This is the kind of clothing the ignorant classes are persuaded by glittering falsehoods to buy of clothing charlatans. There are more dishonest schemes practiced upon the unsuspecting public under the guise of business, than are ever dreamed of—invariably by the imposters in the trade who call themselves business men—when you want to buy clothing or any other commodity, you had better go to some respectable merchant. You are always safe to shun the man who is ashamed to advertise his business over his own name.
